FOREWARD

The Contents of this book can not be classified as a genealogy or a family history. It is primarily a record of several Schnirring children who, one by one, left their native Germany and emigrated to America. It includes the families descended from them generation to generation, to date. Who their parents were is a question that has not as yet been answered.

"The Book" has been developed after considerable work has been done through individual family histories with the assistance of the descendants directly involved. Family Bibles, newspaper clippings, grave stone inscriptions, written family records, family traditions, court house records, letters and personal contacts with living descendants have been sources of information.

There are probably mistakes to be found in these pages due to various reasons. First of all, these dates and names have been repeated and re-written several times and in the process some dates or names might have, inadvertently, been misinterpreted or transposed. As far as lines of descent are concerned, it is belived that the information given on the following pages is as correct as the sources of information will permit. If any errors appear they are accidental and not intentional. When mistakes are discovered please correct them in your copy. I especially would appreciate knowing of the errors in order that the necessary corrections may be made in the master manuscript.

You will find some blank spaces on several pages. These omissions are also due to several reasons. In some cases the documents or records needed to complete the information have not been obtainable. Sometimes the whereabouts of individuals have not been known. In very few instances some of the kinsmen did not wish to cooperate with me in making or giving reports of their family records. Perhaps their lack of indifference was due to a very particular or personal reason and therefore justified. I am very happy to say that those cases are not too numerous. For the most part our whole family of cousins have been most helpful.

Several persons have inquired how long a period of time it has taken to obtain the data and compile it as it appears in this book. Had I worked at it every day, perhaps the accumulated time would not seem so long. But the beginnings were evident many years ago. When a small child, my own curiosity concerning relatives kept me asking questions of my mother who could relate a wealth of family history. Had I been wise then and written down some of those facts and stories, how much more we would have known about ourselves today. But no matter how much time has been spent or how many miles we have traveled to obtain and record the information, I want to assure all of you that this research has been very enjoyable to me from the beginning. It has not been work. To always keep adding to it, as long as physically possible, will always be a continual enjoyment to me.

In my opinion, I feel that we owe it to our ancestors, if we have any element of family pride within us, to keep their names together as a group so that all may realize what we have in common as a family. I am hoping that this book will be the means of knitting the Schnirring family closer together and in many cases be the instrument which will lead to new acquaintances and friendships.

PROLOGUE

To those who read these pages:

The knowledge of our indebtedness to those of the past makes us all more noble and more appreciative of our heritage. This record of family history has been painstakingly prepared for the purpose of preserving the known facts concerning our ancestors for the present and future generations of our family.

No matter what our space age might achieve in future decades, we will always be debtors to the strong and imaginative people of the past. We are the benefactors of their struggles. They have established the foundations for what we are. Now we can make ourselves what we want to be.

In an old slab on the floor of an English Church there appear the words in Latin, "Absentem Adsunt", which means, the absent are present! Man rests from his labors and his deeds follow him. Their story is written in the following pages. Another has put it more succinctly and we use his words:

"A man who is not proud of his ancestry will never leave anything for which his posterity may be proud of him".

Edmund Burke - English statesman.

Written by Rev. Eldon E. Jandebaur, pastor, Christian Church, Chariton, Iowa.

(husband of Ellen Huster, great granddaughter of Mathias Schnirring).

DEDICATION

THIS VOLUME IS DEDICATED,
WITH DEVOUT THANKFULNESS, TO OUR FOREBEARS

Who had the courage to face an unknown future in a strange land;

Who knew from experience that a just and honest day's labor brought many rewards;

Who practiced the ideal that a man's word was as good as his bond; and

Who lived each day believing that a good name is everyone's most valuable possession.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

For the contents and success of this book much praise and gratitude must be given to many persons. To a few, however, special acknowledgment should be given.

To my friend - Mrs. Milan Wheelwright, I must give credit for the actual completion of this book. Her professional knowledge, her assistance and encouragement was the propelling force which inspired me to complete this project.

To my cousins - many in number, goes much gratitude. Especially to Catherine Keil whose faithful and determined perseverance procured practically all the information for the Illinois families. I hesitate in mentioning more specific names, for, should I omit any one it would be embarrassing to me and disappointing to so many. All the cousins have been so helpful, courteous and patient in assisting me to compile the information for their respective families.

To my husband - Wilbur D. Hussey, goes special praise. His chauffeuring for our many trips, his patient hours of waiting, his accompanying walks through cemeteries, his assistance in proof reading, his sense of humor and his generosity in financing the expenses incurred are only a few of his contributions to this undertaking.

THE CREST

The drawing on the opposite page is the work of Erwin Roy Schnirring, great grandson of Mathias Schnirring. The sketch is a facsimile of the Schnirring Coat Of Arms which is in the possession of Karl Schnirring, Baiersbonn, Germany.

In 1953 Erwin's parents viewed the crest. This sketch was drawn from a description given Erwin by his mother so is not especially true in all respects. However, the general idea is there. We do know a Coat Of Arms exists, so if any Schnirring has the opportunity of visiting Germany in the future perhaps you might be interested enough to learn more about it.

Repeated efforts have been made to gain more information regarding the meaning of the symbols and parts of the crest but so far no results have been obtained.

The name "Schnirring" is of German derivation. It is made up of two words - "schnur", meaning string and "ring" conveying the same thought as our English word ring. Translated then, it means a string and a ring. There are many string and ring combinations. My nephew's wife, Pauline Schnirring, has used a few ideas in the sketches she has drawn on the cover of "The Book" and for the headings of each section.

E. SCHNIRRING.

THE CREST FOR THE SCHNIRRING FAMILY

An honored German named Gottfried Schnirring of Stuttgart carried this coat of arms in the year of 1662. The above information was obtained from the Frommannschen Crest Library W. St. B.

The name Schnirring, Schüring, Schürring, also Schüring comes from the old German family lineage "SCURO", and was already in existence in the 5th Century.

EXPLANATION OF THE SYMBOLIC CREST OF ARMS

The shield in the center of the coat of arms has a black background framed in red and bordered in gold.

The bar across the crest means: The forefather who carried this shield was a dedicated individual. Through his love of duty and righteousness he was well known. His honorable life ended after much thought and unhappiness.

The top black field with the two gold insignia rings and the bottom one with one insignia ring means: The unending fight which finally won the war.

The golden shield border means: The forefather fought endlessly for the honor of the family.

The tournament helmet means: Brave example.

The golden chain, and also the gold nails on the helmet means: Praise for honorable duty.

The crown designates the family as warriors.

The two high held hands, black clothed arms with gold cuffs, and on the hands gold rings means: Hard times were overcome through continuous hard work, and through it the name Schnirring came to mean honor and well being.

The mantle of black and gold gives expression to the motto-
"WE FIGHT TO WIN"

NOTE: On page 6 it was stated that we knew a true Coat Of Arms existed but we were unable to locate the original at that time. However, through the persistent efforts of Erwin Schnirring, a photostatic copy of the actual crest was finally obtained. He prepared the drawing which appears on the opposite page and sent it on to be printed.

By the time it arrived pages 6 and 7 had been completed. The first plans were to delete the first printing of those pages and replace them with the exact explanation and picture. Some of the family were so pleased with the descriptive drawing Erwin had previously done that it was decided to let it remain as originally planned. Therefore, page 7a and 8a have been inserted to include the actual crest.

We are greatly indebted to Erwin for his contribution to our family history.

EXPLANATIONS

This Schnirring record is divided into sections, each brother and sister being given a section of their own in which their descendants have been listed. Names and dates prevail for the most part. In some cases other information can be gained concerning an individual by reading the obituaries. To assist you in deciphering and using the accumulated material the remarks which follow should be helpful to you. An index of all names contained in the book, which pertain to the families themselves, has been included at the end of the book for your convenience.

CHARTS

Each section begins with a genealogical chart. This should be of assistance to you as you read through the data of the following pages in placing each descendant in his or her rightful lineage. Please note that the married name of the female descendants follows their given names. This is to aid you in following through in each family where the name differs from that of Schnirring.

NUMBERING

This is the day and age of numbers. So here is one more to add to your list of individual identification used in this book only.

In order that you may better understand the listing of each descendant from their respective "head of the clan", each direct progeny has been given a number. This is to distinguish him or her from another individual who might have a similar name. Each person's number differs from another in some way so that no one listed herein has the same identification. For example: The capital letter beginning the serial number designates the family to which one belongs. "G" for George, "A" for Anna etc. The first number appearing in the series denotes the generation to which you were born. In each case the heads of the families were considered the first generation, their children the second and so on. The last number in the series tells us the number of descendants in a given family; that is, in Section One, Section Two etc. This number has been given to each person according to generations. They are not in the chronological order of their birth. As you continue to list new additions they will divert from this sequence and become chronological because generations tend to overlap where births are concerned. It is my hope that you will continue to give each new descendant a number.

To explain this further, I will use my own identification: - M-3-15. This will tell me that my forefather was Matthew, I am of the third generation and the 15th in line according to individual family listings within the family.

ABBREVIATIONS

In order to save time and space you will find the following abbreviations used quite often.

add - address

b - born

bur - buried

cem - cemetery

dau - daughter

m - married

occ - occupation

BLANK PAGES

Following each section in this book you will find some blank pages which have been inserted for you personal use. It is hoped that each family, at least, will record any future records of births, marriages and deaths. Family stories, customs, jokes, traditions, recipies, etc. might also be written on these pages. If there is no family scrap book, perhaps you will want to use them for pictures or newspaper clippings. We hope you will not let them remain unused.

OTHER SCHNIRRINGS

During the years we have come across the name of Schnirring at various intervals and have always been interested as to whether or not we will be able to link them to our family some day. I am mentioning them in the hopes that perhaps some of you might be in the vicinity in which they live and will do a little research on your own. Each one uses the same spelling of the name and each one originated or lives in Germany.

My uncle Albert Schnirring's children have visited with a Karl Schnirring and his wife in Baiersbronn, Kries Freudenstadt, Wurtemberg, Germany, French Zone. He operates a food wholesale store in Baiersbronn, "neber der Kirche und Laugerhaus am Bahnhof". He has described a "Coat of Arms" to my cousins which he says has been handed down to him. He believes that our grandfathers were cousins. We have written to him several times but no answer to our letters has ever been forthcoming. Judging from his picture, he appears to be a likable individual and, whether it is imagination or coincidence, he resembles our cousin who was visiting him.

Following World War II, my brother found an article in the May 18, 1949, Vol. 56, No. 10 issue of the Pathfinder Magazine, which told of a princess making shoes to earn a living for her family. Her husband was Peter Schnirring, a test pilot in W. W. II, who lived in Berlin. Some of us wrote to her so she sent a picture of Peter to us and of herself and family. She told us a few facts concerning her family. She is known as Calma, Princess of Coburg and lives in Coburg, Germany. She is a great granddaughter of Queen Victoria, but her immediate family had shunned her because she had married the commoner, Peter. Her oldest brother has a small farm in the Bavarian Alps. A younger brother, Mr. Colberg, lived at that time, in San Francisco, California and worked for the Grace Steamship Line. Her sister was married to Prince Gustav Adolf of Sweden who was killed in an airplane crash in Copenhagen.

She and Peter have three children, namely:

Calma, born - Nov. 18, 1938; Dagmar, born - Nov. 22, 1940, and Michael, born - Jan. 4, 1943.

By a previous marriage to a Count, she had three other children. They are Bertram, Count of Castel, born Dec. 1st, 1932; Conradine, Count of Castel, born Oct. 10, 1943 and Victoria, Countess of Castel, born Feb. 26, 1935.

For several years now, we have not heard any word from her or her children. At one time she was thinking of going to Santiago, Chile. Perhaps she made that trip.

About fifteen years ago another cousin of mine discovered an article in a magazine in which appeared the name of Julian Schnirring, a farmer, near Ann Arbor, Michigan. We wrote to him and five years later a daughter answered the letter after her father had passed away. She has said that her grandfather, John George Schnirring was the son of Michael Schnirring from Stuttgart, Germany. Two brothers came to New York. One stayed and was a ship builder while her father went directly to Michigan, a hundred years or so ago. She wonders if our grandfathers could have been brothers or cousins. Her name was Lorena Schnirring, now Mrs. Everett D. Bailey, 3546 Cornell Ave., Dearborn, Michigan.

The Schnirring name also appears in the New York City Telephone Directory. A Harry J. Schnirring is listed in the Cincinnati, Ohio directory as living at 7041 Palmetto.

So you see, there are other Schnirring families besides ours. Even though we cannot prove or verify that there is a connecting link somewhere back in our ancestry, it will be interesting to try. I'm sorry now that I hadn't delved into the project with more enthusiasm so that information concerning these folks could be more definite and established. But this remains as a challenge for the future and some time you might hear more about them.

TERMINOLOGY

Perhaps you have been puzzled at times on the subject of who is related to whom.

All of us are familiar with the fact that our first cousin is our parent's brother's (or sister's) child. However, that first cousin's child is not our second cousin as we are inclined to think. Instead, he (or she) is our first cousin once removed. The child of the first cousin once removed is our first cousin twice removed and his (or her) child is our first cousin thrice removed.

A second cousin is our grandparent's brother's (or sister's) grandchild. That second cousin's child is our second cousin once removed. His child would follow as our second cousin twice removed, and so on.

Should we go further? A third cousin is our great grandparent's brother's (or sister's) great grandchild. The third cousin's child is our third cousin once removed, his child our third cousin twice removed.

"Collateral" relations are those relatives who are "linked" by a common ancestor, such as aunts, uncles and cousins.

"Lineal" relations are those relatives in the direct line of ascent or descent, such as a grandfather or grandson.

"Step" relations are sometimes confusing. A stepmother (or stepfather) the wife of your father (or the husband of your mother) by a subsequent marriage. A stepchild is the child of your husband or wife by a former marriage. A stepsister (or stepbrother) is the child of your stepfather or stepmother.

The child of your mother and stepfather, or of your father and stepmother, or, the child of either parent by a former marriage is you "half" brother (or "half" sister).

A grandniece (or grandnephew) is the grandchild of your brother or sister. A greataunt (or greatuncle) is the sister (or brother) of your grandparent. A great grandaunt (or great granduncle) is the sister (or brother) of your great grandparents.

An ancestor is the person from whom you descend directly, such as a grandparent or great grandparent. In this book the common ancestor for those whose names appear in Sections One, Two, Three, Four and Five have as their common ancestors the parents of George, Anna, "Sister", Christian and Matthew and are thus all related to each other as collateral relatives. Following the same line of thought, all the names in Section Five are also connected by another direct ancestor to Section Six. Also some of those included in Section Five are related to Section Seven. In checking on the relationship, I'm sure you can determine what the connection might be.

OBITUARIES

I am very sorry that the obituary of each deceased person in your family is not included in "The Book". We tried to obtain each one but in some instances it seemed they were not available. Here again the omission is not intentional. I am very anxious to have each one recorded so if any one has a copy of any obituary which is missing would you please supply us with the information?

As you read through these obituaries, you will discover a discrepancy between them and the data appearing in the genealogical sections. They have been copied from newspapers or clippings exactly as they were printed. Inadvertently some errors have crept into them through misinformation, typographical errors, misspelling or other reasons beyond the editors control. The data in "The Book" is correct to the best of my knowledge.

CEMETERIES

Whenever possible the burial places of those who are deceased have been recorded. Again, to save time and space the location of these cemeteries are listed below. This information might be of help to you if you wish to visit the graves of your relatives. If any have been omitted please add those names to this list.

SERVICE RECORDS

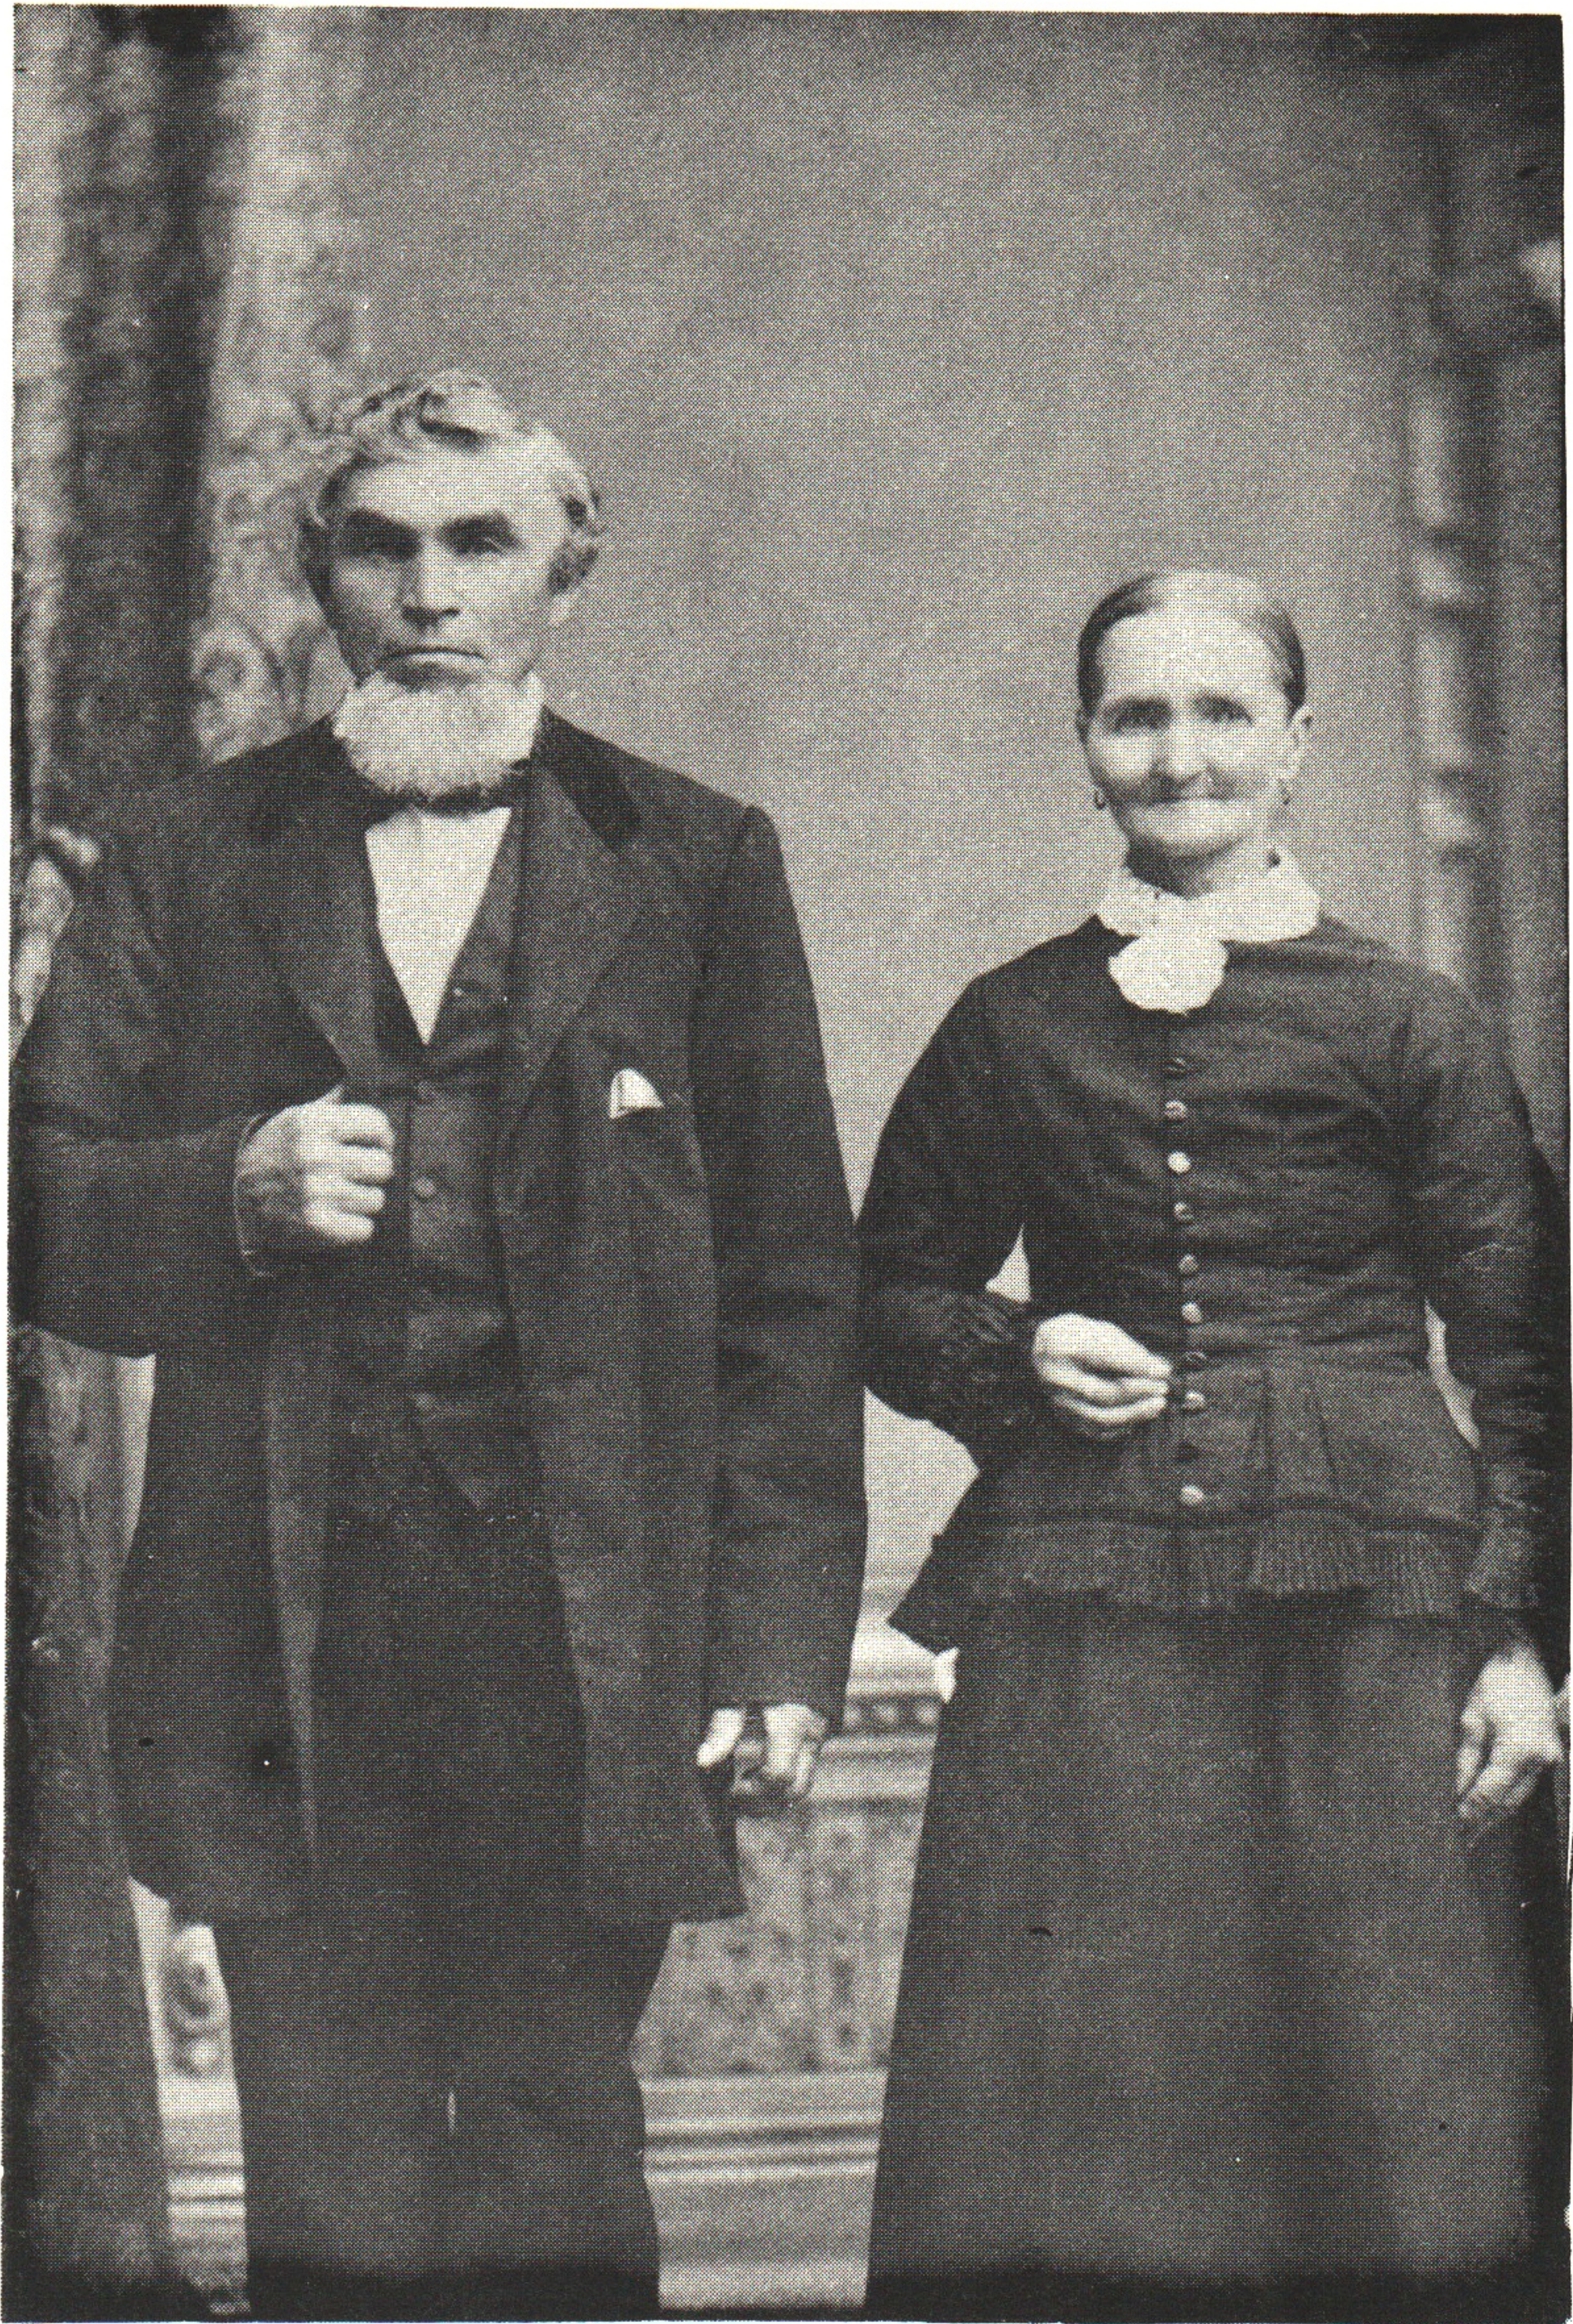

At the last minute I decided to give a brief account of those persons who have served our nation in some branch of the armed services. I relied on personal accounts from individuals for my information. Some answered and some did not. I tried to obtain some of the information from County Service records but was not always successful there. Some gave detailed accounts of their activities and others gave the bare minimum statistics. Consequently, there is quite a diversified amount of data given. Will those of you who have been, or are at the present time, in military service please assist me in making the list complete? Those whose records do not appear have not been intentionally omitted. I am sorry it is not complete at this time.

SECTION
ONE

Schnirring

GEORGE and ELIZABETH SCHNIRRING

GEORGE

As nearly as can be determined, George, the eldest of the Schnirring family, was the first of the children to emigrate to America. After he had established himself here, two brothers and two sisters followed in due time. It is believed that he encouraged them to make the trip and played a responsible role in getting them located in and around Springfield, Illinois.

Because accurate records from Germany are not available at this time and since no family Bible can be located, the dates concerning George's early life do not correspond with each other. Consequently, there is a discrepancy in many instances. I am aware of these fallacies, but, until we have other and truer information to relay on to you please accept what has been told me and what I have been able to glean from the records available at this time. If any of you reading these pages can furnish the accurate data, I will be more than happy to pass it on to others and make any corrections necessary.

Primarily, the German youth emigrating to America a hundred or more years ago were more anxious to seek their fortune here than stay in their own native land because of the years of military service they were required to give to their country. At that time the German nation was made up of provinces, similar to our states, each ruled by a king, duke or duchess and each maintaining its own army. So two or three years of a young man's life was a mandatory military requirement. Therefore, many male youths came to our shores with energy, dreams, ambitions, a zest for life and a determination to succeed, which were valuable assets in the advancement of their trades and abilities. Most of them were peasants or poor people coming with the few possessions they could carry. Even though their beginnings were very humble, they worked hard and faithfully at their chosen occupations and slowly but surely moved tirelessly toward the top to become a success in their chosen line of work. Oftentimes the womenfolk followed their men after they had established a home for them here. Some came together as young newlyweds; and sometimes, as in the case of George and his wife, the young lady was the adventure-some one. Be that as it may, the resulting homes and communities have given many of our states the German-American families which have helped to prosper and build our nation.

Both George and Elizabeth were employed by the King of Wurtenburg in their youth; he a baker and she being a personal maid to the Queen. Elizabeth came to America with some friends. It was a dreadful trip on a sailboat. Sometimes the wind would drive them back for miles so they were on the water for weeks before arriving on these shores. Some passengers died at sea. Enough food had to be taken for the entire trip so by the time they finally reached land their rations were practically gone. Soon after landing she found work in a Jewish home in New York where she was employed for a few years.

Before Elizabeth left Germany she and George had agreed that after she had found employment she should write to him letting him know how she liked it in America. If she was satisfied to stay, then he would come too. She never sent the letter so, after several months of waiting, he came to New York on his own. They met by chance on the street one day. A few months later they were married. They both were employed for a time by the family for whom Elizabeth was working.

Later they went to the Philadelphia, Pa. area where they had friends who were farmers. This was the beginning of their farming career. It was in Pennsylvania where their three oldest children were born. When they learned that good farm land was obtainable near Springfield, Ill., they came west to investigate. They felt that young couples had a better chance for advancement and perhaps own their own land in this newer community. They located on a piece of land west of the city. Eventually their farming talents specialized in the growing of grapes and their farm produced one of the best vineyards in that region. As a result, they made barrels of wine which were sold to the local merchants.

George and Elizabeth were parents of five girls, the two youngest being born Illinois. Here are some interesting facts concerning the family. This, is a Schnirring genealogy. But the number of persons having that name in this section are only seven in number: George, his wife and his five daughters. Their granddaughter, Mary Keil Lauterbach, had the largest family listed herein. She was the mother of thirteen children, eight of whom are still living. On the other hand the family of their daughter, Catherine Stoeckel, is almost extinct. She was the mother of eight children but only two girls married. They are both widowed and childless. These two sisters now live in the family residence at 801 No. Walnut St.,

Springfield, Ill. where all the Stoeckel children were born and where five of them died. They are now nearing their 85th and 75th birthdays. The family of the eldest daughter, Elizabeth, who married Carl Keil, purchased a farm near Springfield soon after their marriage. He had been a stone cutter and much of the marble in the State Capitol building was cut by him. All the Keil children except the eldest, Mary, were born on this farm. One of the sons still lives on and farms a part of the land. The original house still stands and is his home. The remainder of the farm is now a part of the Capitol Air Port; a very busy modern air terminal.

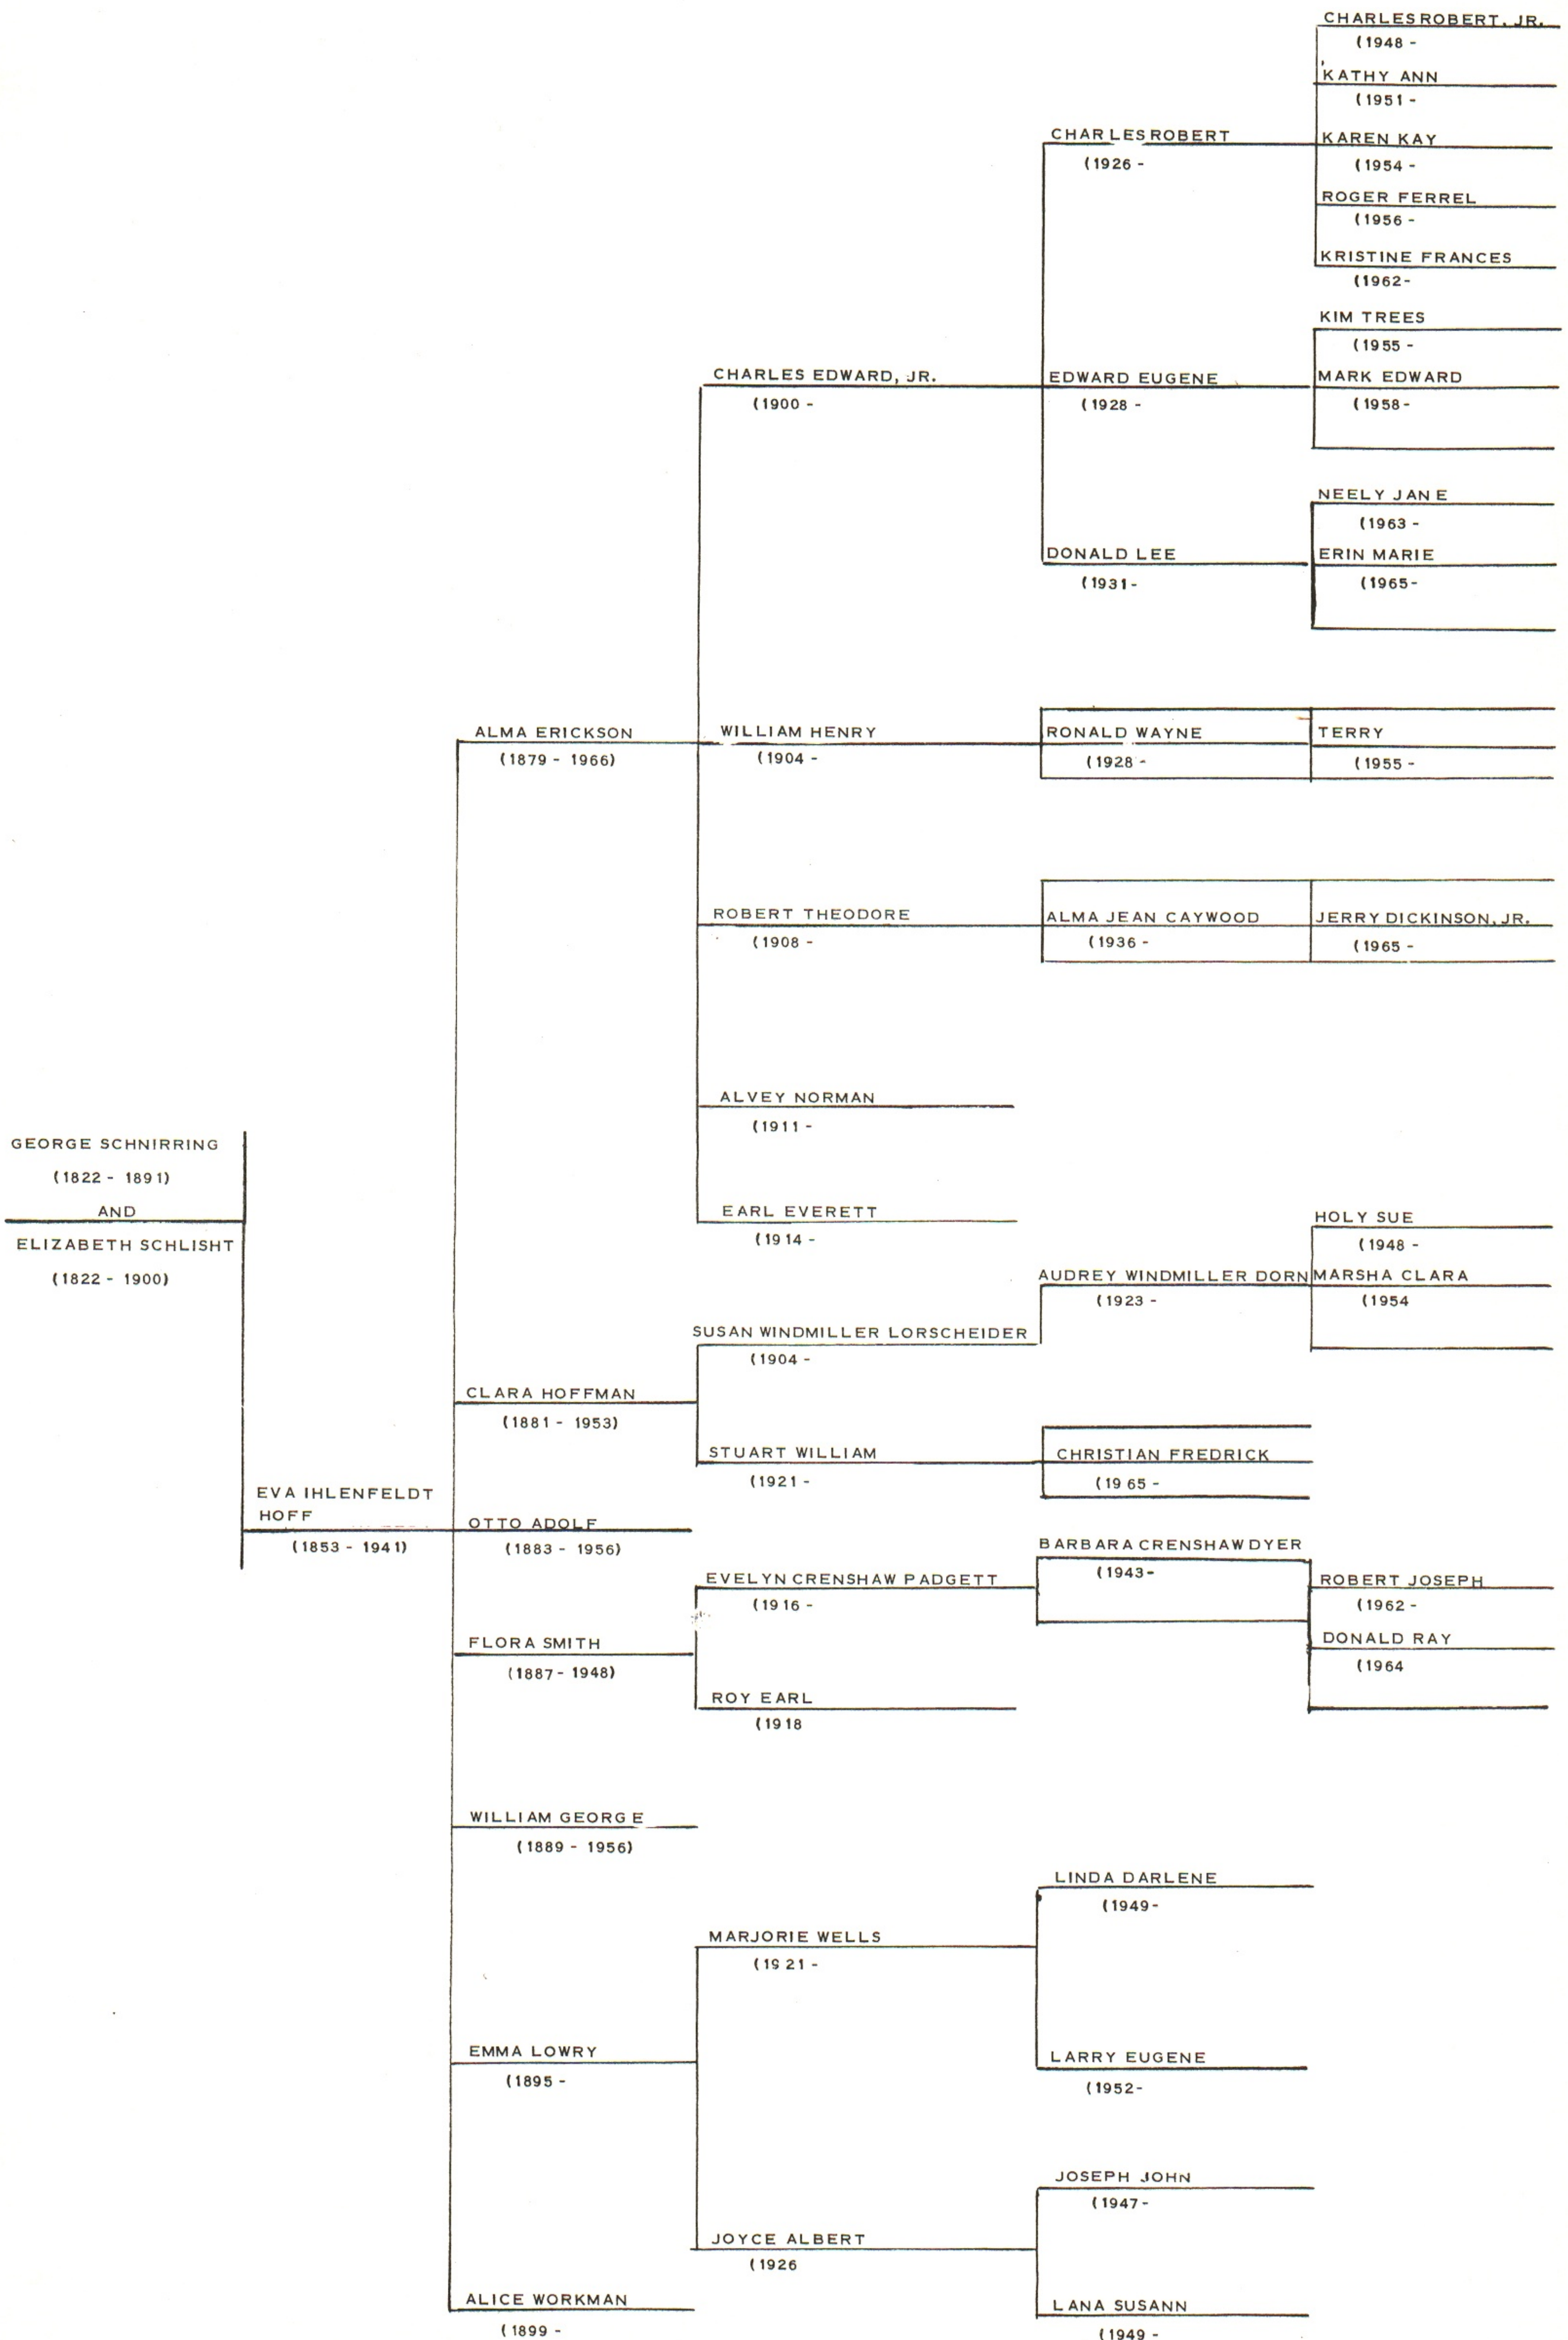

Eva Barbara Ihlenfeldt Hoff, was the mother of seven children who were all very musical and the girls were also gifted seamstresses. For several years they were popular musicians for parties and weddings. The two boys both died of heart failure and their funerals were held the same day. Three of the girls are still living.

Daughter Mary had the smallest family, two girls. Both married but the one daughter's family is now entirely deceased. The family of the other daughter consisted of four children, three of whom live in Springfield.

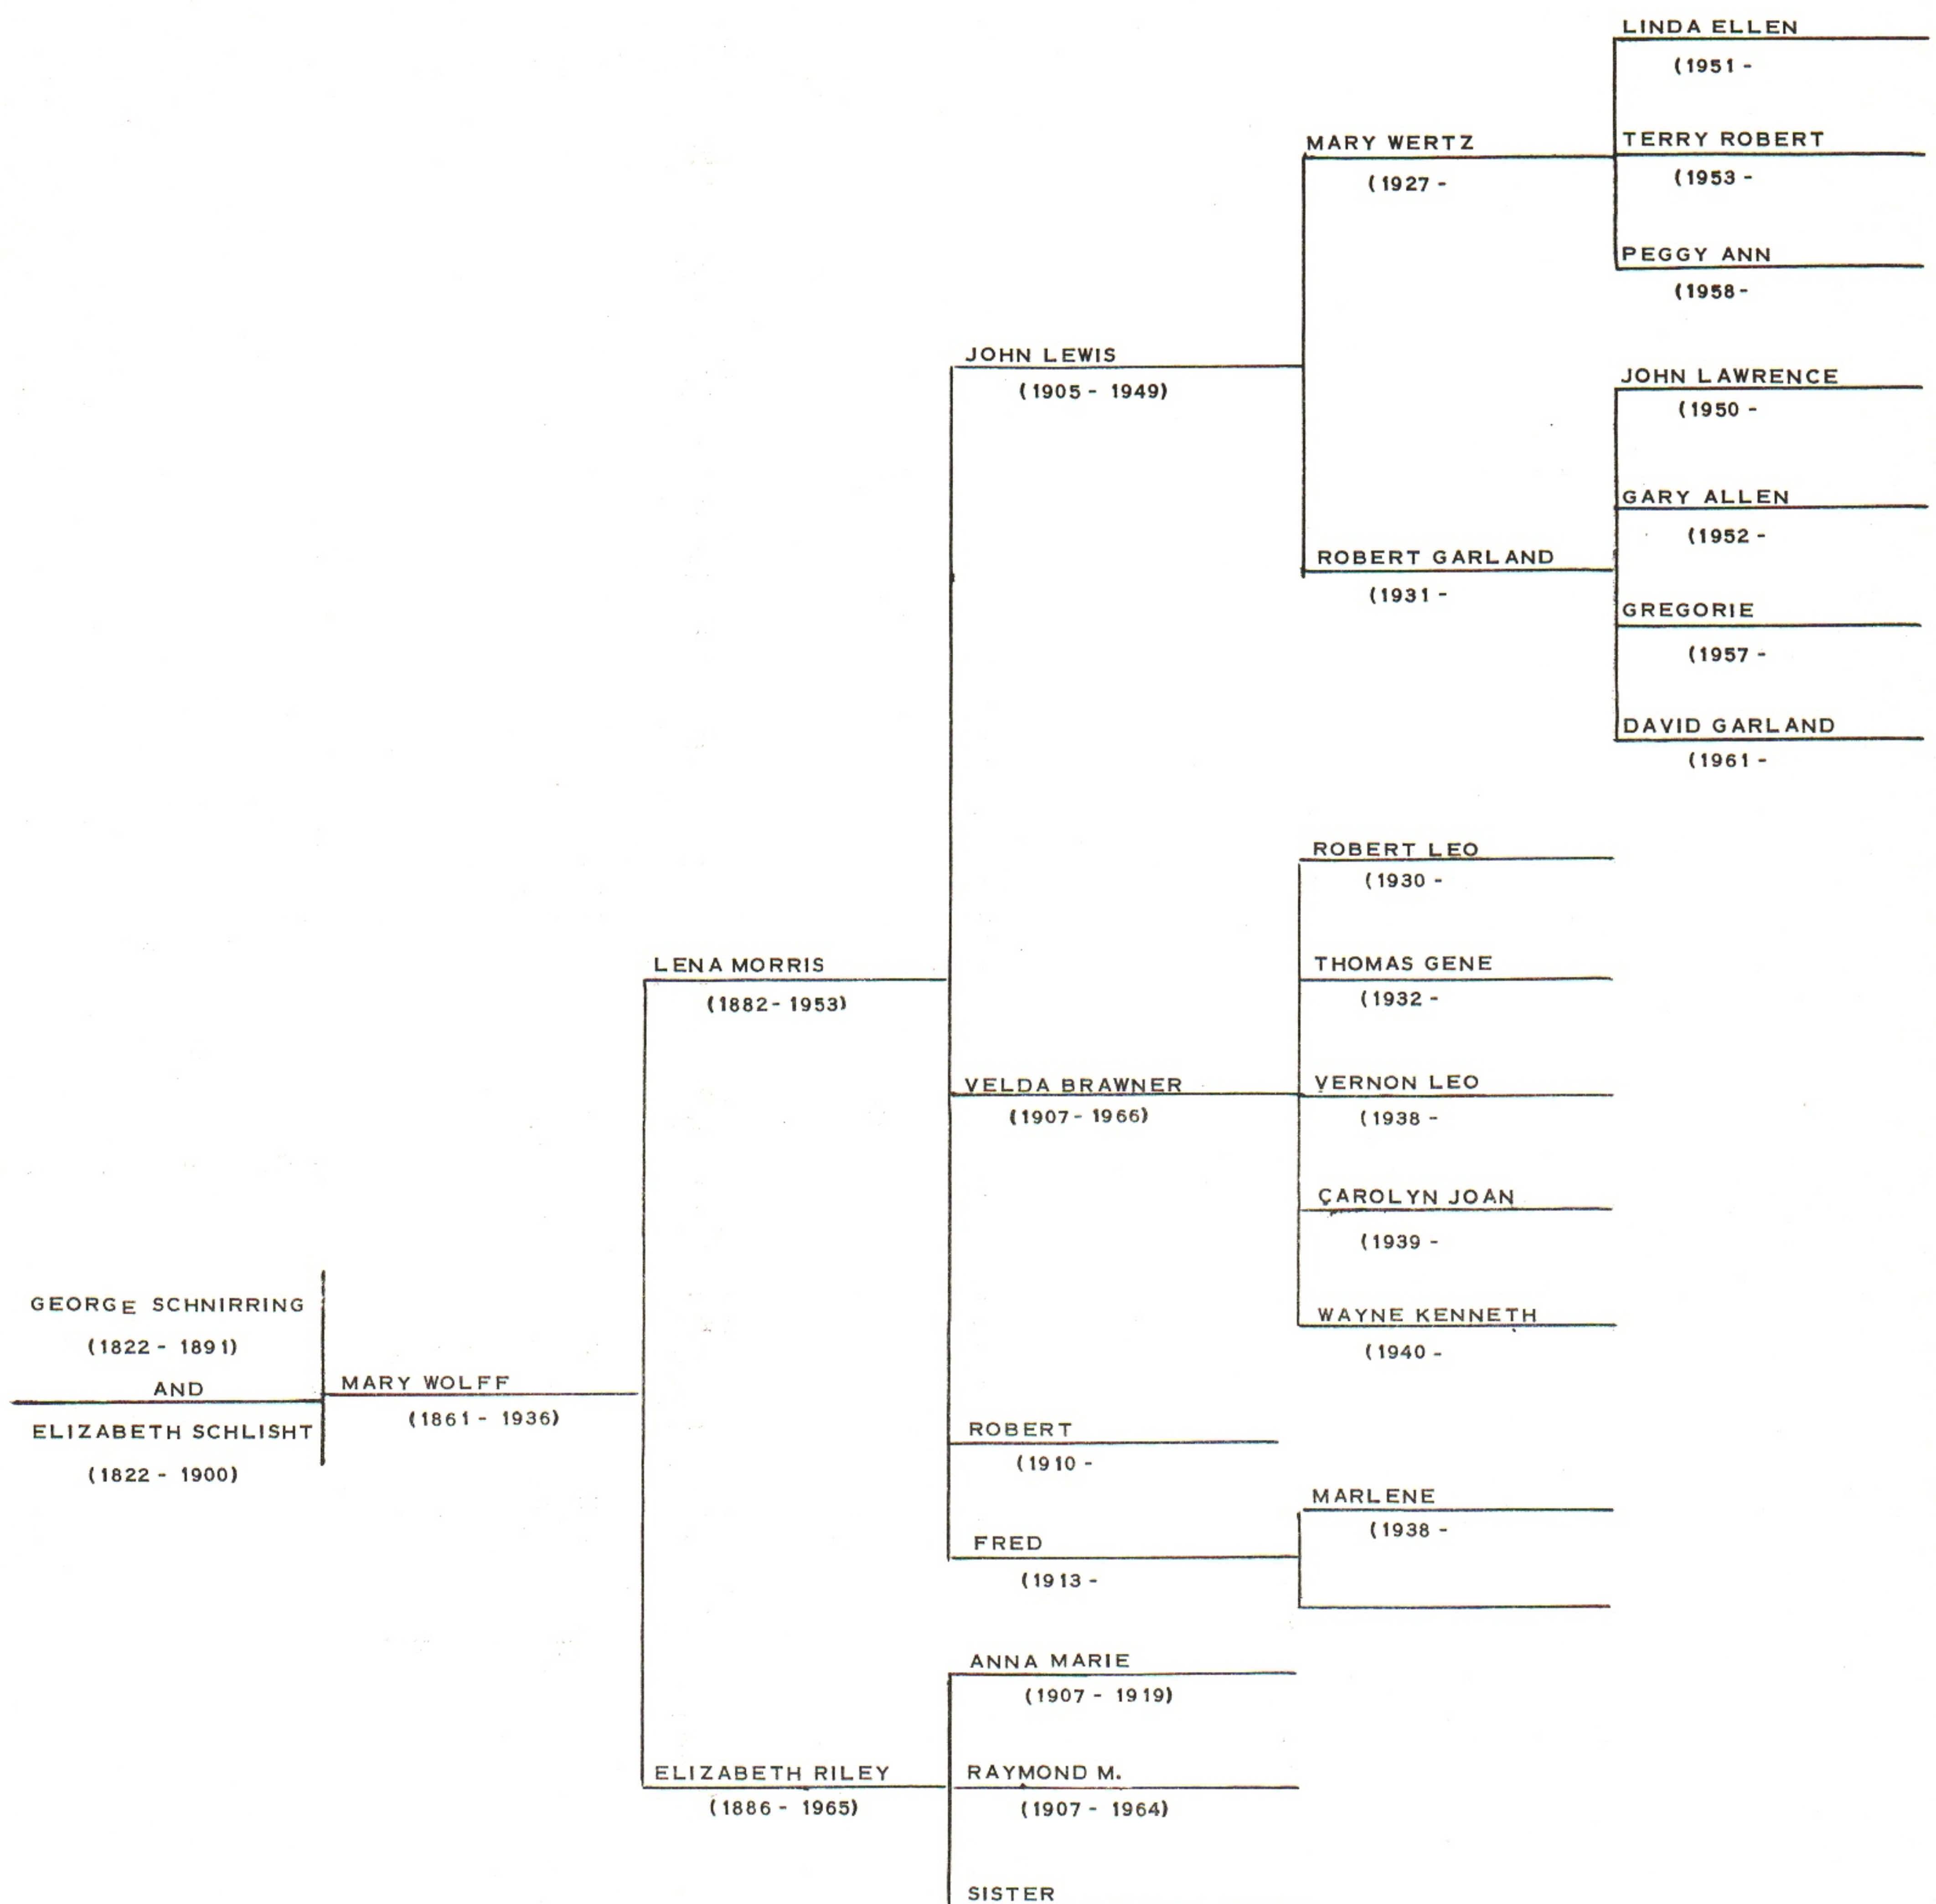

The youngest daughter, Magdalena, married a widower who had a family of five children by a previous marriage. They were the parents of three children, two of whom are still living. In talking to their daughter concerning the Family Bible she could not remember ever seeing one. But, she remarked, "the one grandmother cured people with, she burned". ("She" being the grandmother).

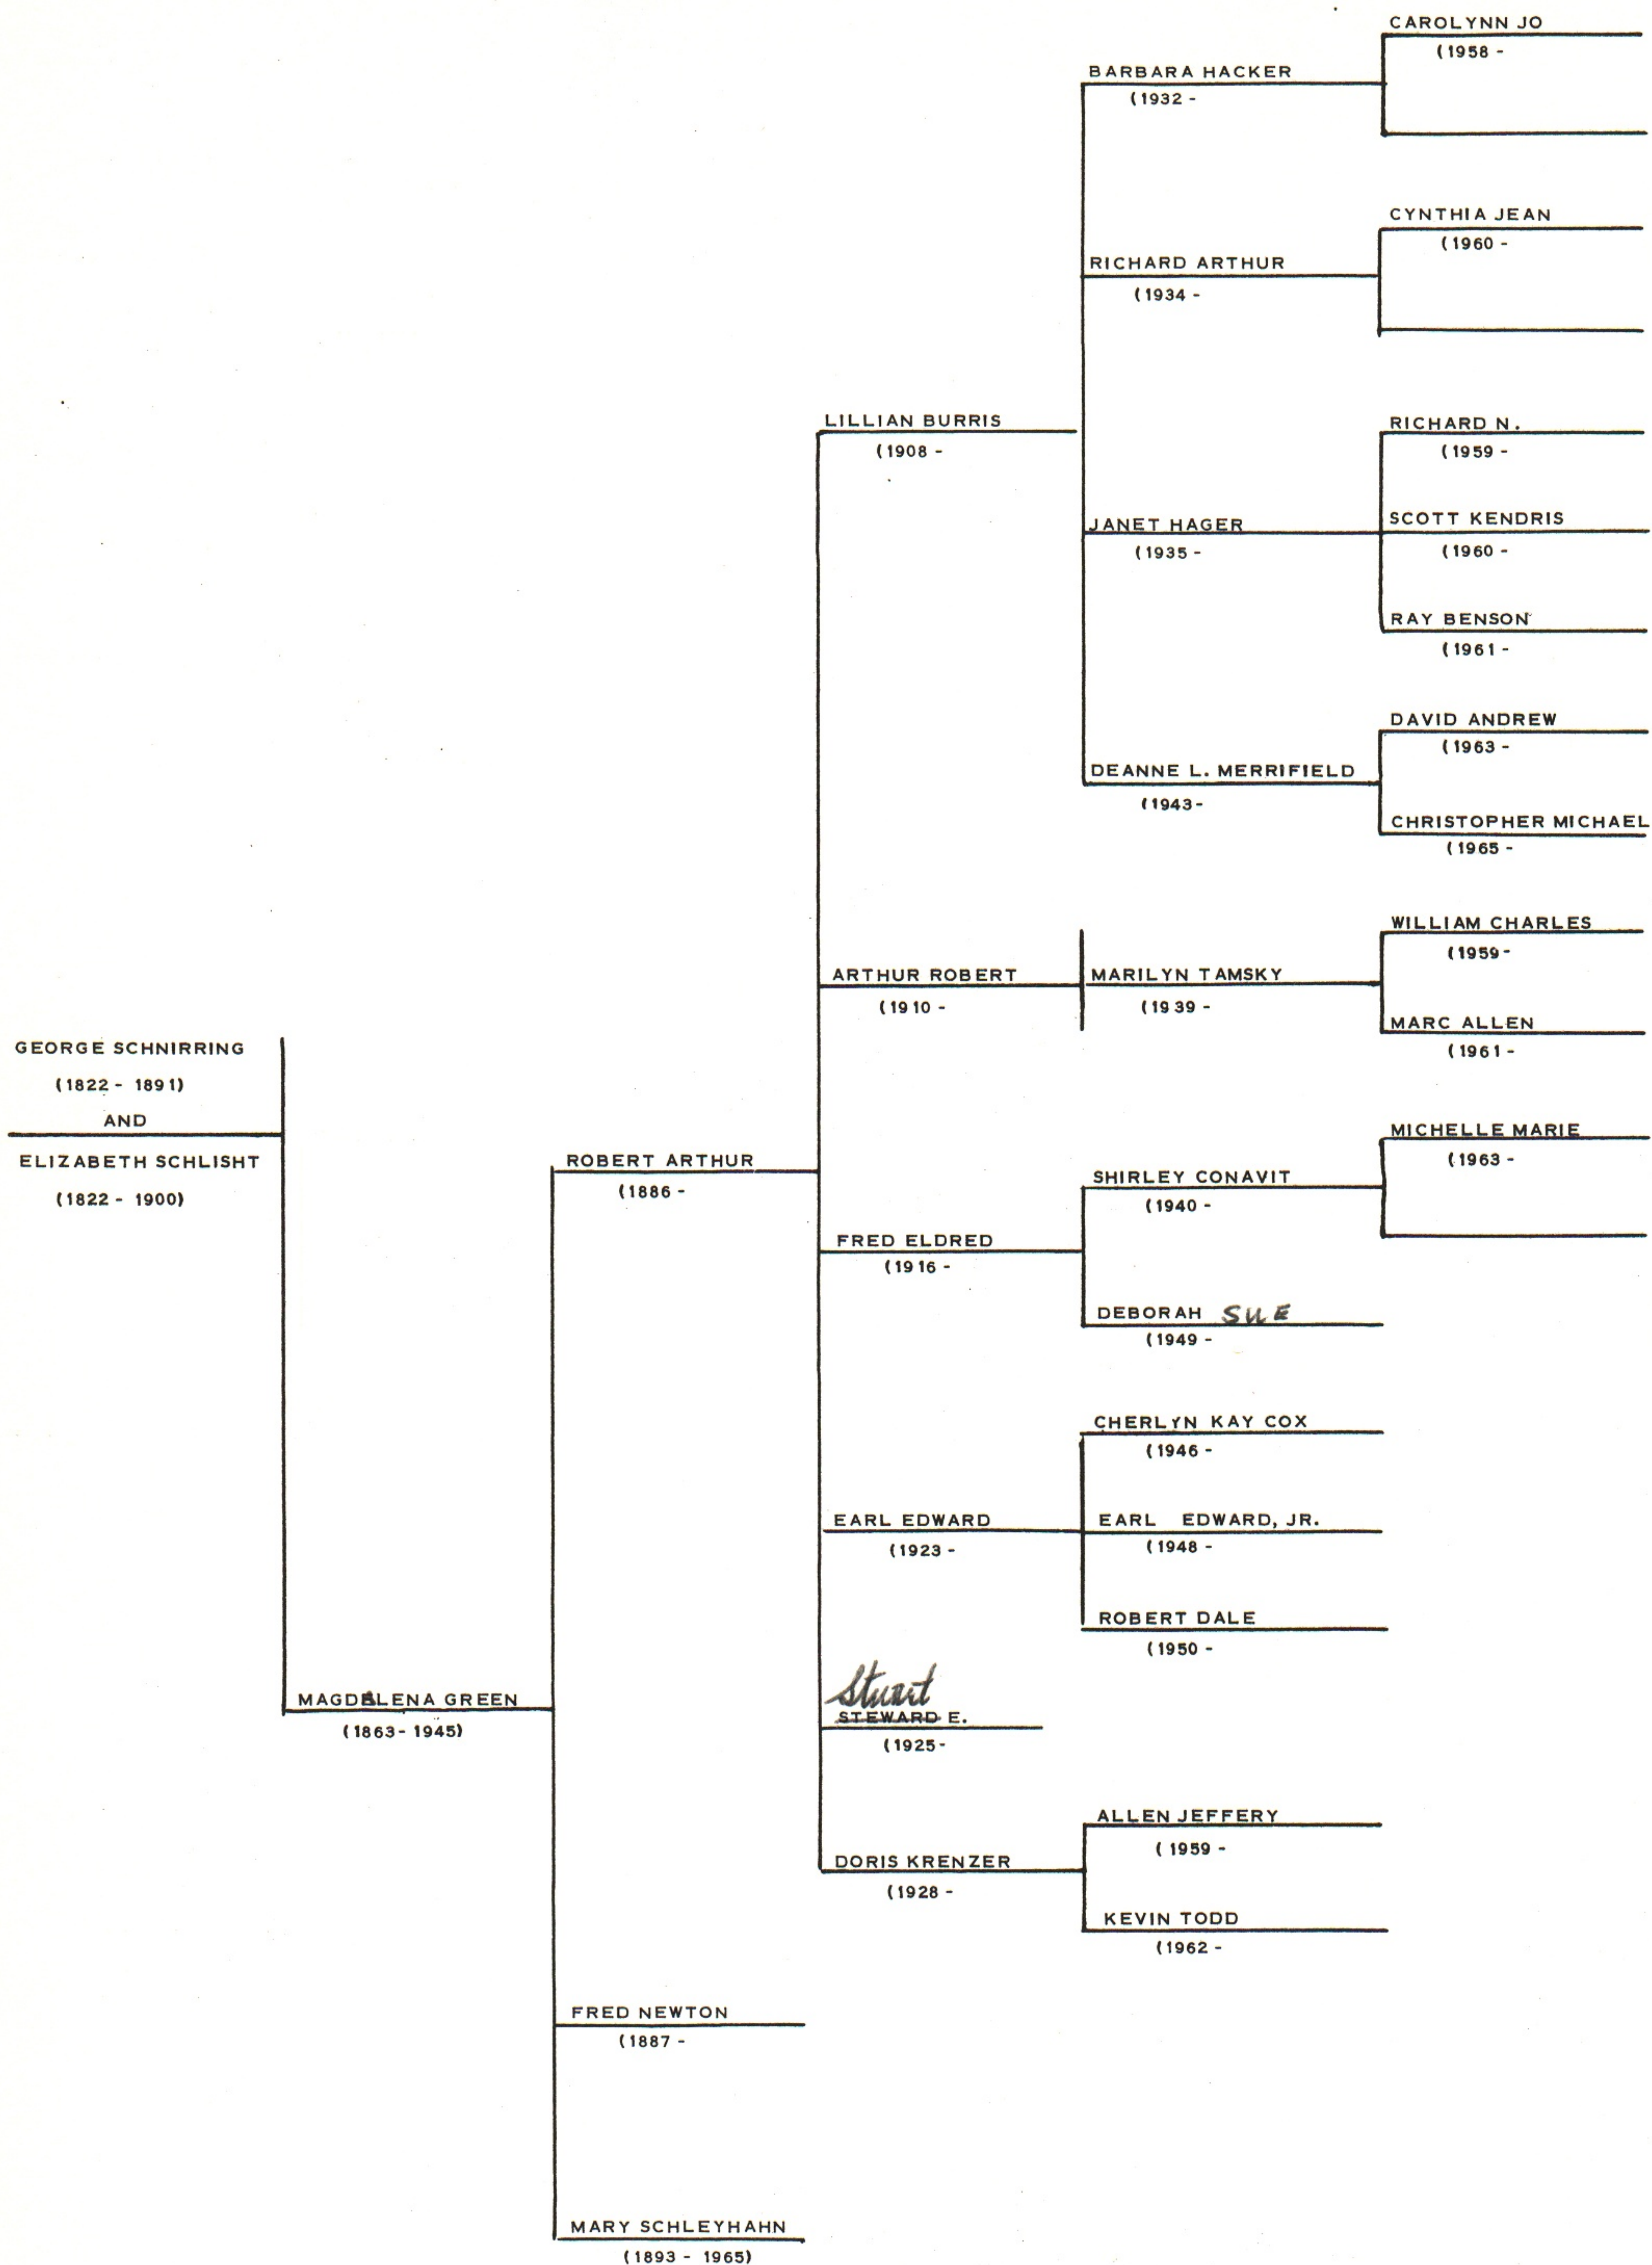

This is a very short story of George's family. Those of you who are descendants have many other facts and recollections which you could add. In order to let your posterity have access to them it is hoped that you will record many of them in this section of "The Book"

SECTION TWO

GEORGE ADAM and ANNA REISCH

GEORGE ADAM REISCH

George Adam Reisch and Anna Schnirring were married in Germany and came to the United States in the 1840's. The exact date is in question. One source of information on hand at this time tells us that they were married in 1845 and came to America in 1847. Another statement says they were married in 1846 and crossed the ocean in 1848. If any one in the Reisch family can give us further information, with proof, we would be anxious to give the correct data.

Apparently the first two years of their married life were spent in the native land. Upon arriving in America they first settled in Pennsylvania in or near Millersville in Lancaster County. Here they lived until 1861 when they moved to Sangamon County, Ill. on a farm seven miles north-west of Springfield. For twenty-two years they farmed their land, moving to 122 W. Jefferson St., Springfield, Ill. in 1883. They continued to live there until their deaths.

Five sons and one daughter were born to them. The only daughter, Anna, a beautiful and vivacious young lady contracted typhoid fever and died at the age of 20 years.

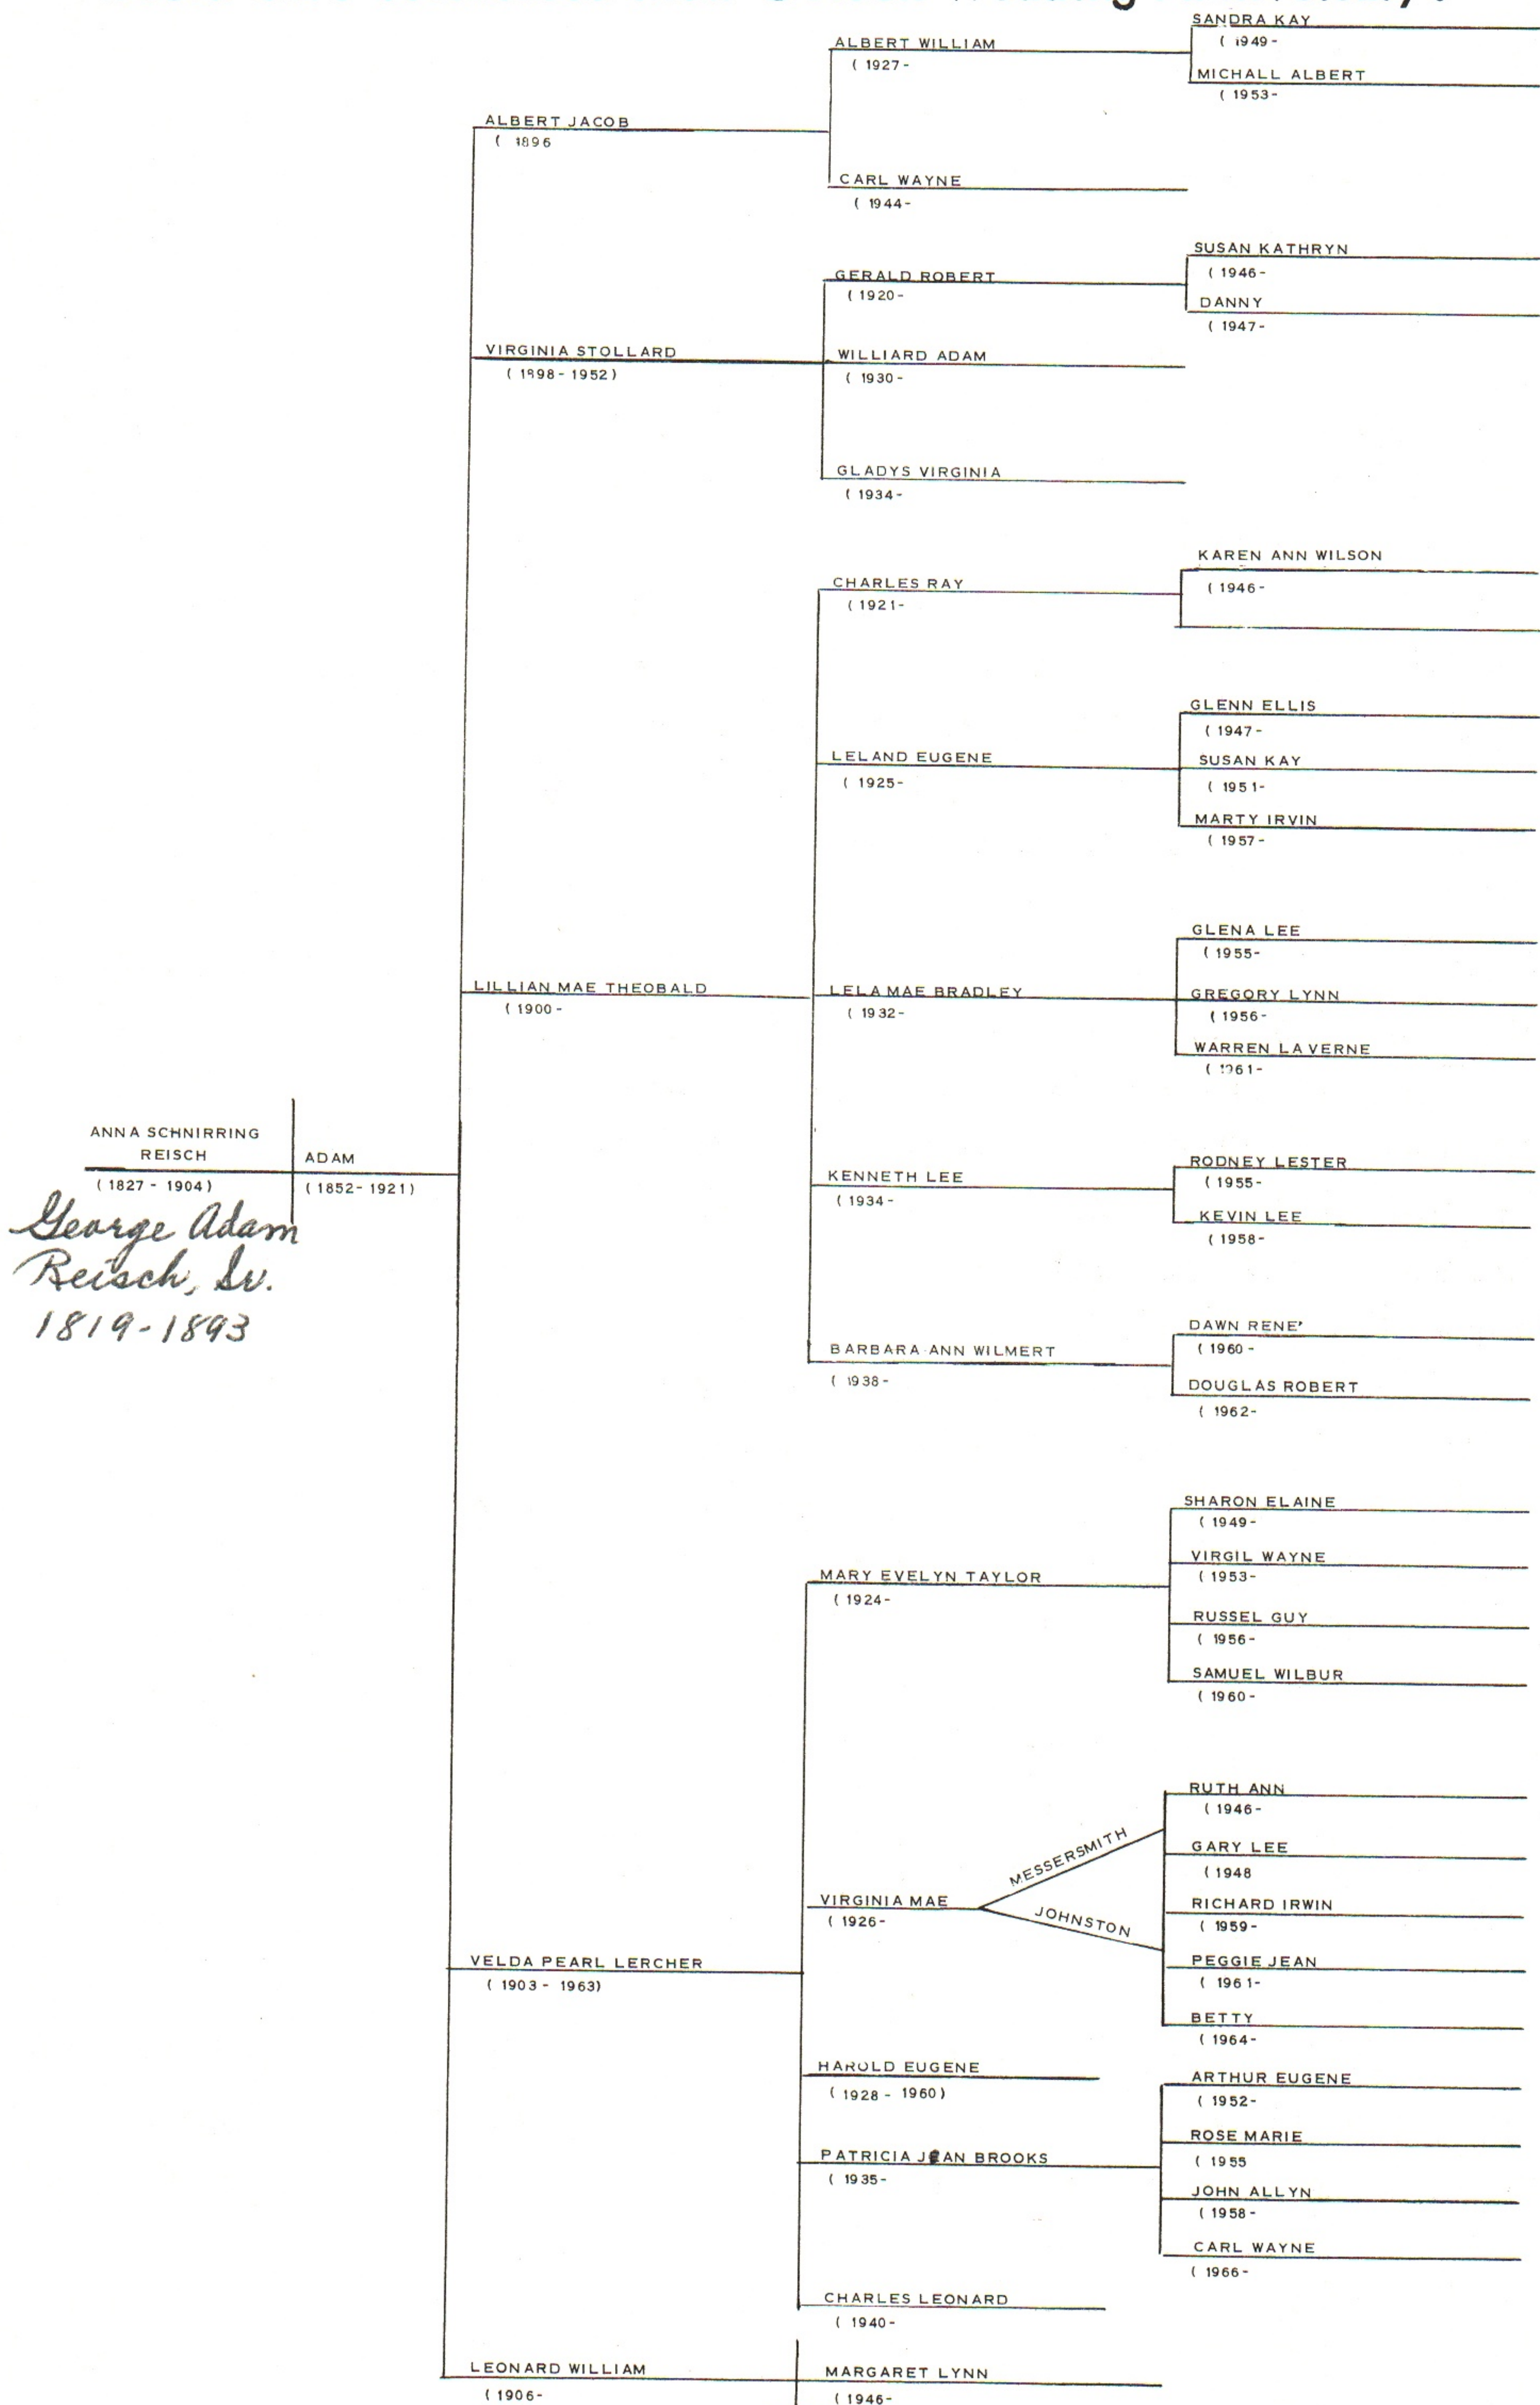

The two older sons were born in Pennsylvania. Adam, the first born, became a business man living in Williamsville, Ill. for many years. There he was engaged in several enterprises, among them a successful butcher shop. He was killed in Williamsville by a freight train while crossing the tracks.

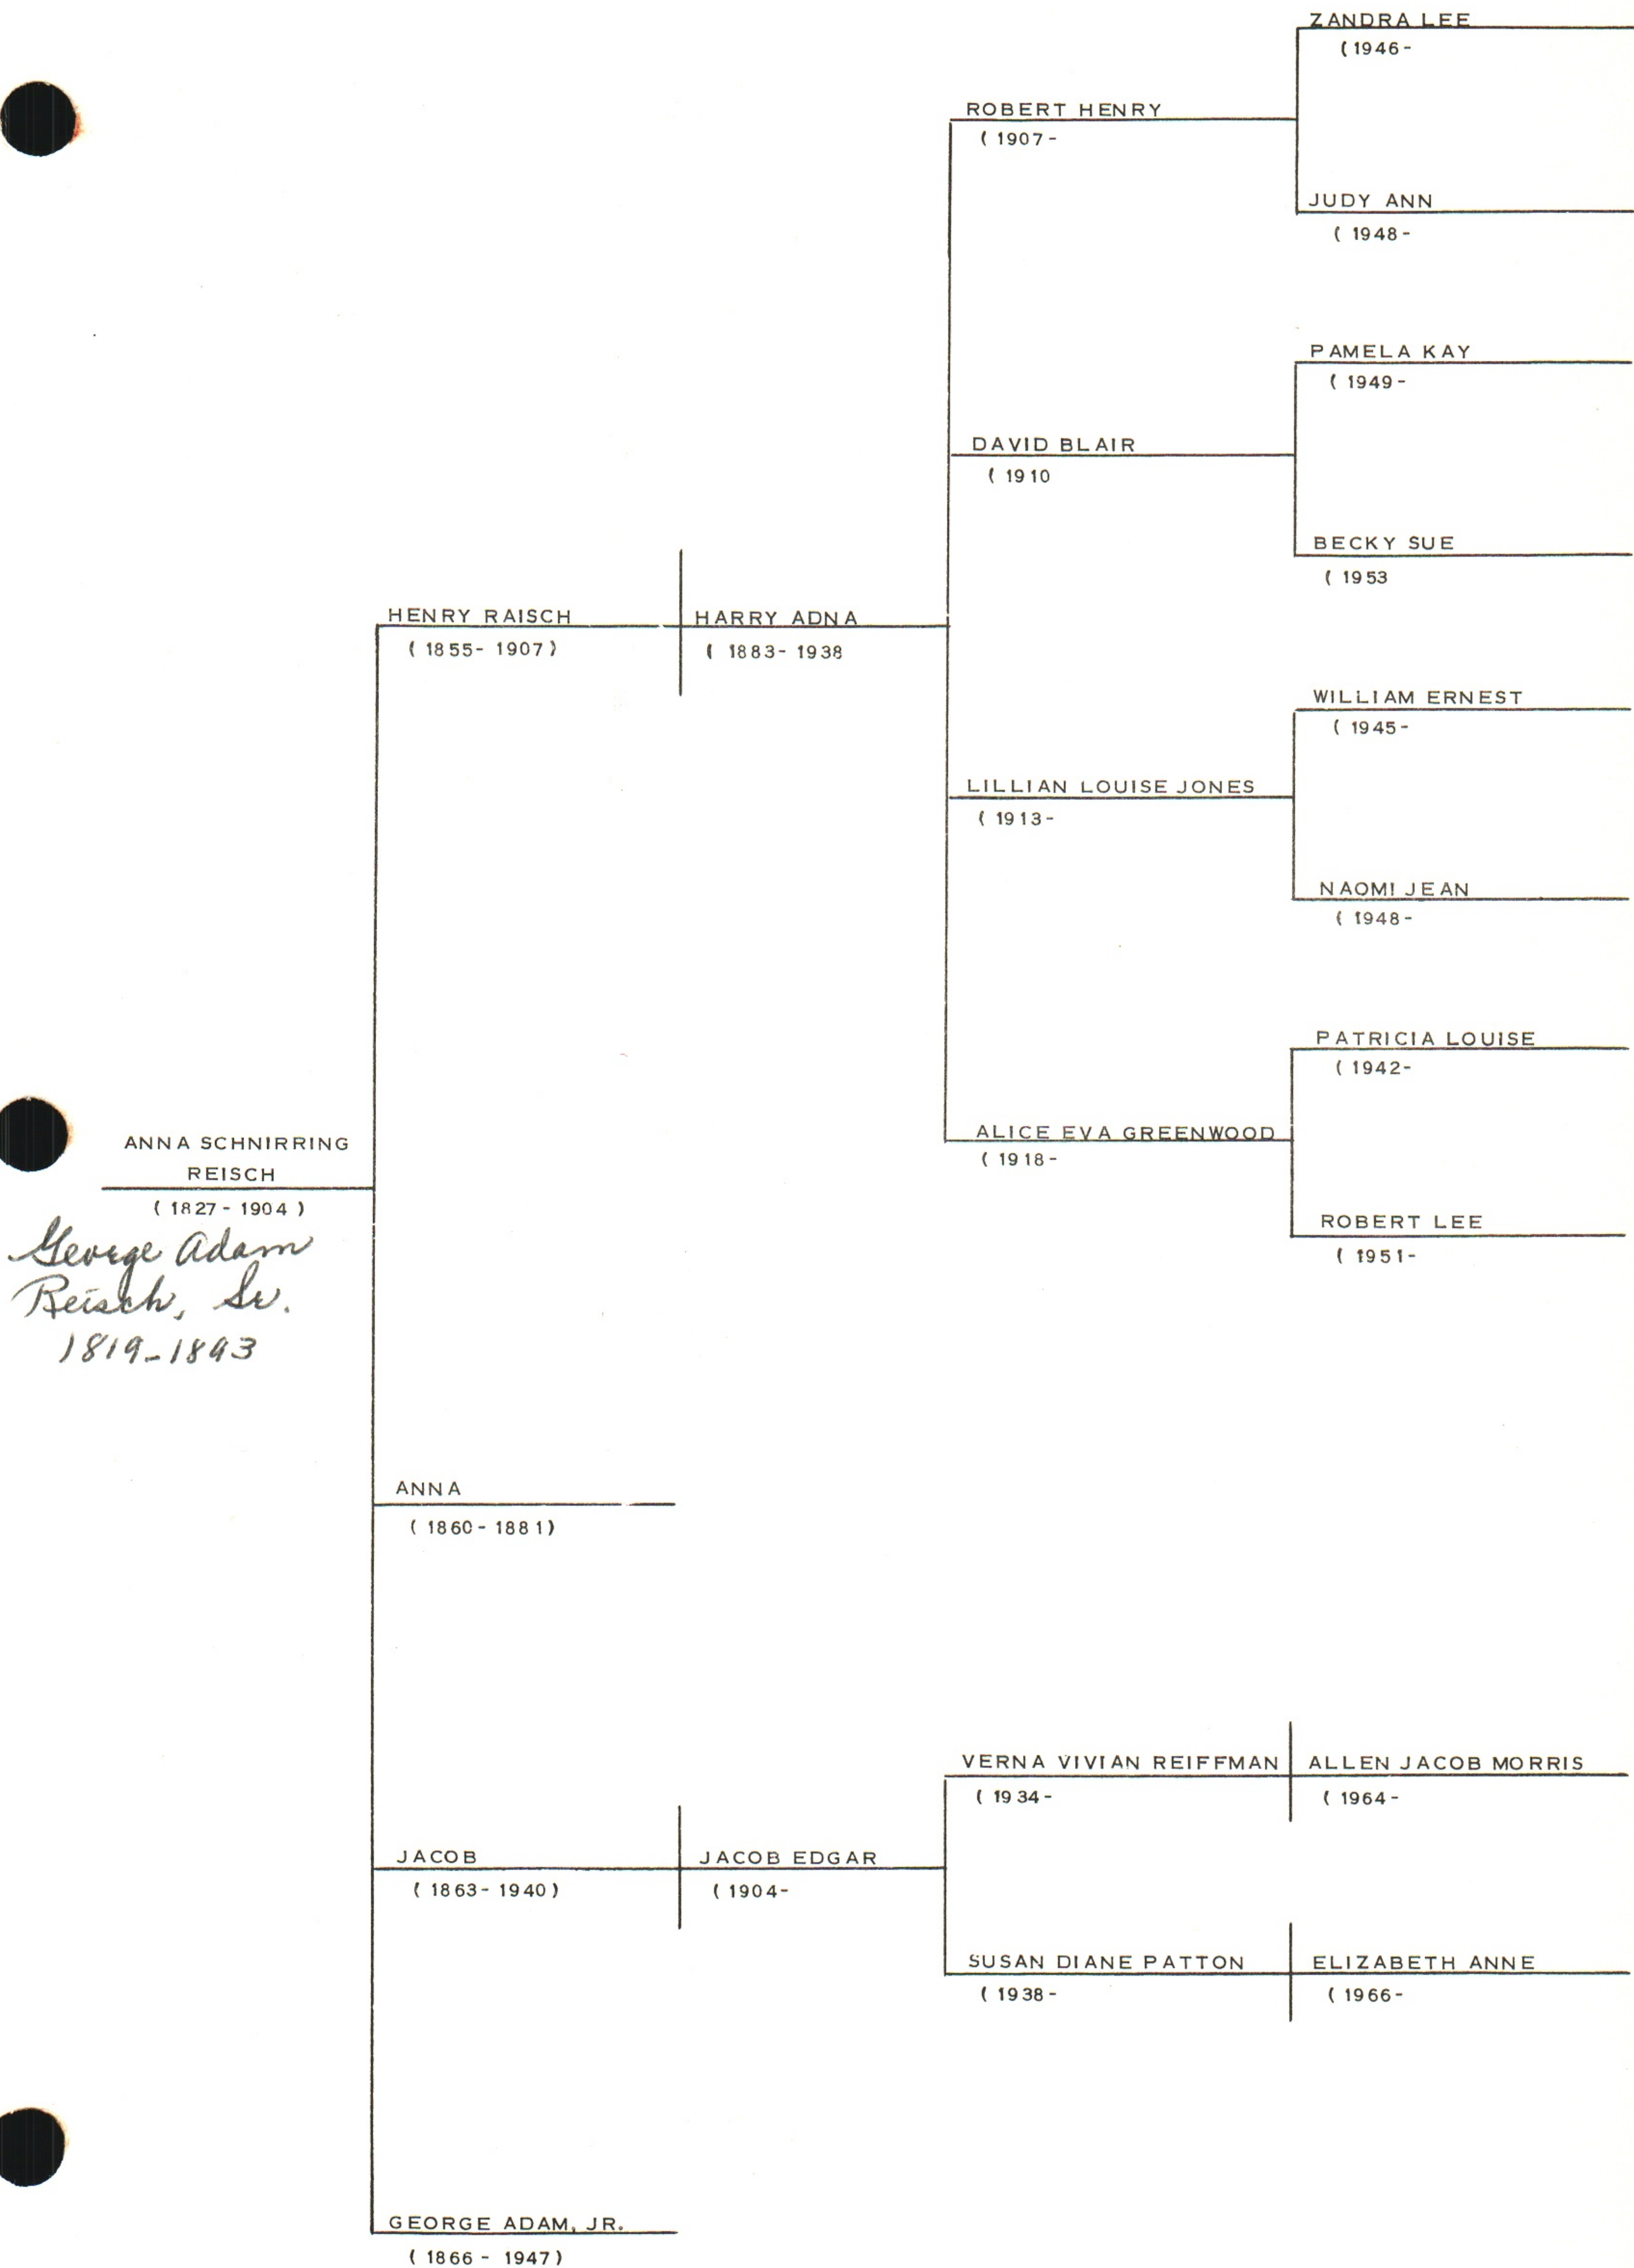

Henry stayed in the Springfield area from the time he came to Ill. with his parents until his death. He conducted a grocery business for a time but later moved to a farm west of Springfield on the Old Jacksonville Road. Here he lived for the remainder of his life. His grand-daughter and family now live on the farm. For personal reasons, while he was still a young man, he changed the spelling of his surname and was thereafter known as Henry Raisch.

Jacob was an employee of the Illinois Watch Factory but was retired the last 20 years of his life. He lived at the residence of 124 W. Jefferson until his death.

George Adam, Jr. also lived in Springfield during his younger years working for a time in the Illinois Watch Factory and later was employed as a barber. In the early 1920's he went to Los Angeles, Calif. where he operated a hotel until his retirement.

John, twin brother of George Adam, Jr., resided in Springfield most of his life. In his later years he was employed by the Myers Bros. Store. Had he lived two more days he and his wife would have celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

SECTION THREE

CATHERINE HOFFMAN SEEMAN

This Section of "The Book" is somewhat incomplete. In fact, it was quite a decision to make when a name was to be chosen for this part of the Schnirring genealogy. Finally, it was decided to designate this chapter as "Sister". Her name is not known now and until such time as more records can be searched or until more definite information can be disclosed, "Sister" will be the name used for this chapter.

"Sister's" story of her life reads like a book, even though it must have been a short and tragic one. What little is known about her was told to me by her great-granddaughter, Marguerite Maurer, of 1320 N. 3rd St., Springfield, Ill. It has been verified by Anna Schnirring Dellert in whose childhood home, Sister's daughter, Catherine Hoffman, lived."

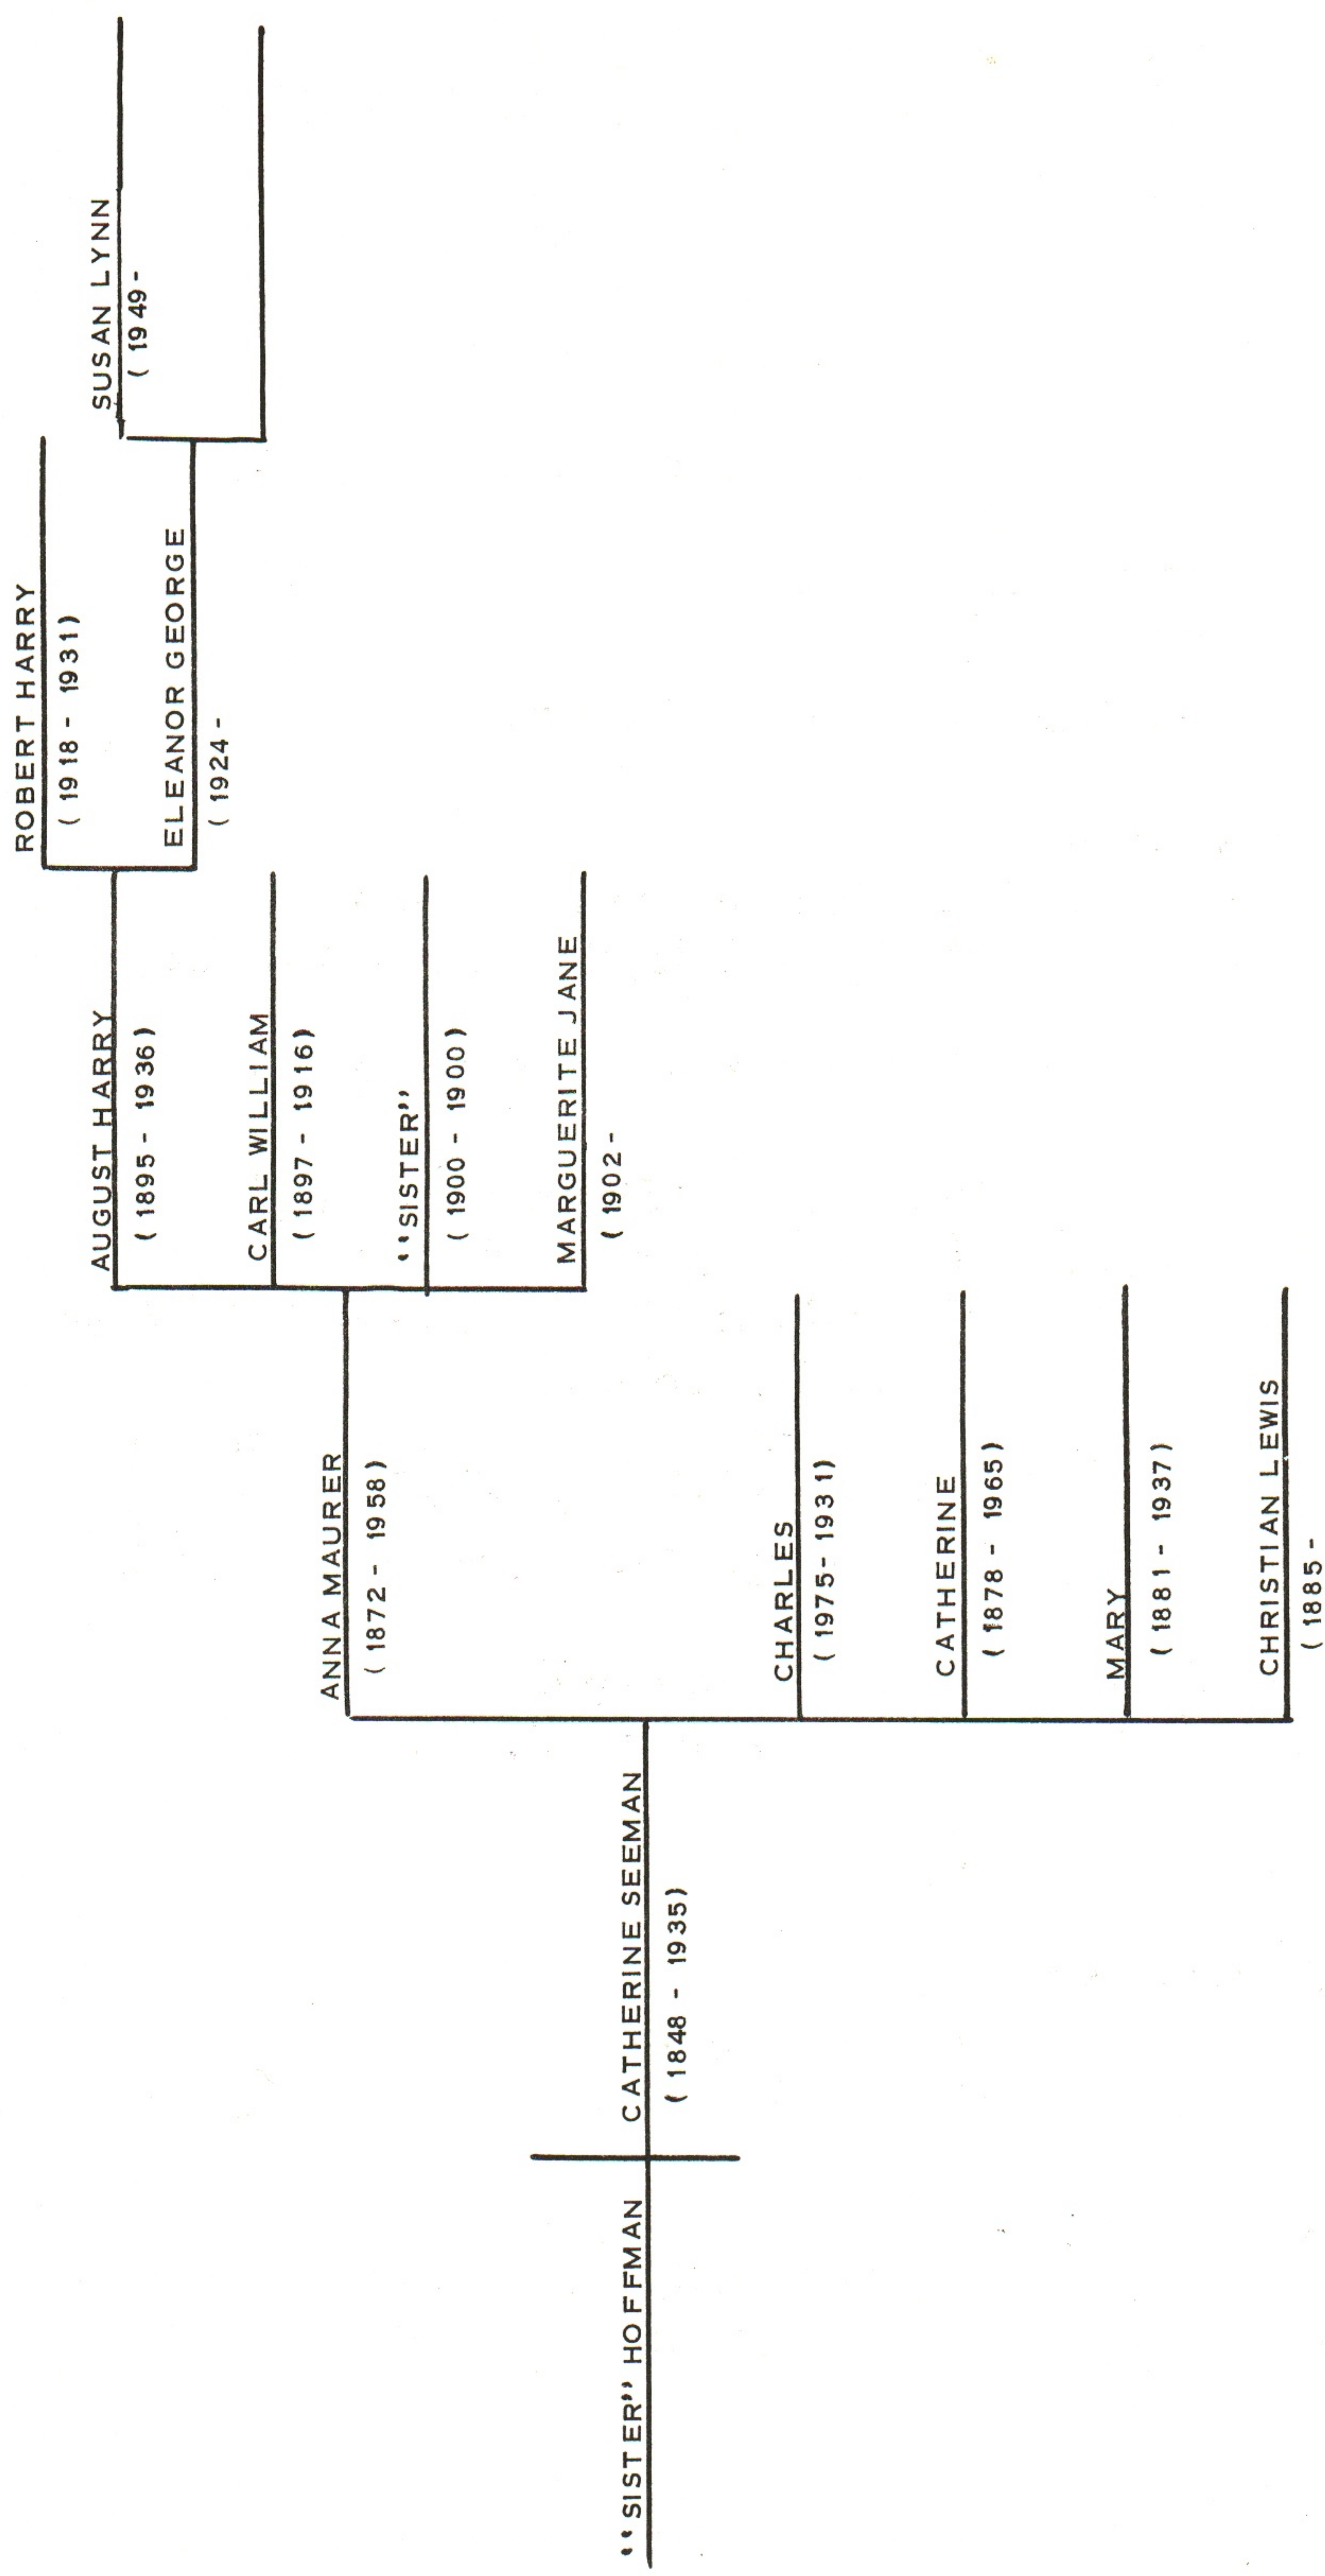

"About 1855, Sister, whose married name at that time was Hoffman, started to America with her daughter, Catherine Hoffman, and Catherine's maternal grandmother. The trip was made in a sail boat taking forty days to make the journey. During the voyage the grandmother died and was buried at sea. (This was the Schnirring brothers' mother and is the only known fact concerning either parent.) Where Sister and Catherine landed in America, where they lived or what they did is not known. Eventually they arrived in the Springfield, Ill. area. During those intervening years, however, Sister remarried. Here again, the time, place and even the name of the husband is not available. However, when Catherine was six or seven years old they lived in Chatham, Ill. While living there, Sister was badly burned and did not survive the severe burns. She was buried in the Chatham Cemetery."

"After her mother's death, Catherine lived with her stepfather until neighbors of the family became concerned of her welfare. They were aware of his abusive treatment to Catherine and finally took her to Springfield, Ill. where they left her with her uncle, Christian Schnirring. He, in turn, drove to Chatham to check on the conditions of the home and to try to make some kind of arrangements for Catherine's well being. As he was driving along the road he met a covered wagon loaded with luggage, and recognized the driver of the team as Catherine's step-father. By the time Christian had found a place to turn around with his horse and buggy, the covered wagon, team, driver and all had disappeared and Christian was unable to catch up with him. He then went to Chatham only to find the house empty and all the belongings gone."

"Christian took Catherine to live with him. At that time he was not married and was working for Governor Bischel and his wife in the Governor's Mansion. They allowed him to keep Catherine even under those circumstances. After his marriage she continued to live with them and was a part of their family until her marriage to Charles Seeman in 1871."

So these are the few known facts concerning Sister and her rather short but adventuresome life. Catherine never wanted to think or talk of her childhood because those years were such unhappy ones for her. It was not until she shared the home life of Christian and his family that she really knew the meaning and pleasure of a home. Since she was an only child and since only one of her daughter's had a family, this Section has the smallest group of descendants in "The Book" and at this time there are only four direct descendants living. Her husband Charles, was born in Germany coming to America in 1851, settling in Lancaster, Pa. While living there he became friends of the George Schnirring and Reisch families. Perhaps it was their friendship which prompted him to go to Ill. after his service in the Union Army. Charles Seeman was the only relative to serve in the Civil War.

SERVICE RECORDS

CHARLES SEMAN

Served part of one year in the Union Army of the Civil War. He was recruited in York Co., Pa. and served as Private in the 87th Inf., Co. A., being inducted on Mar. 18, 1865.

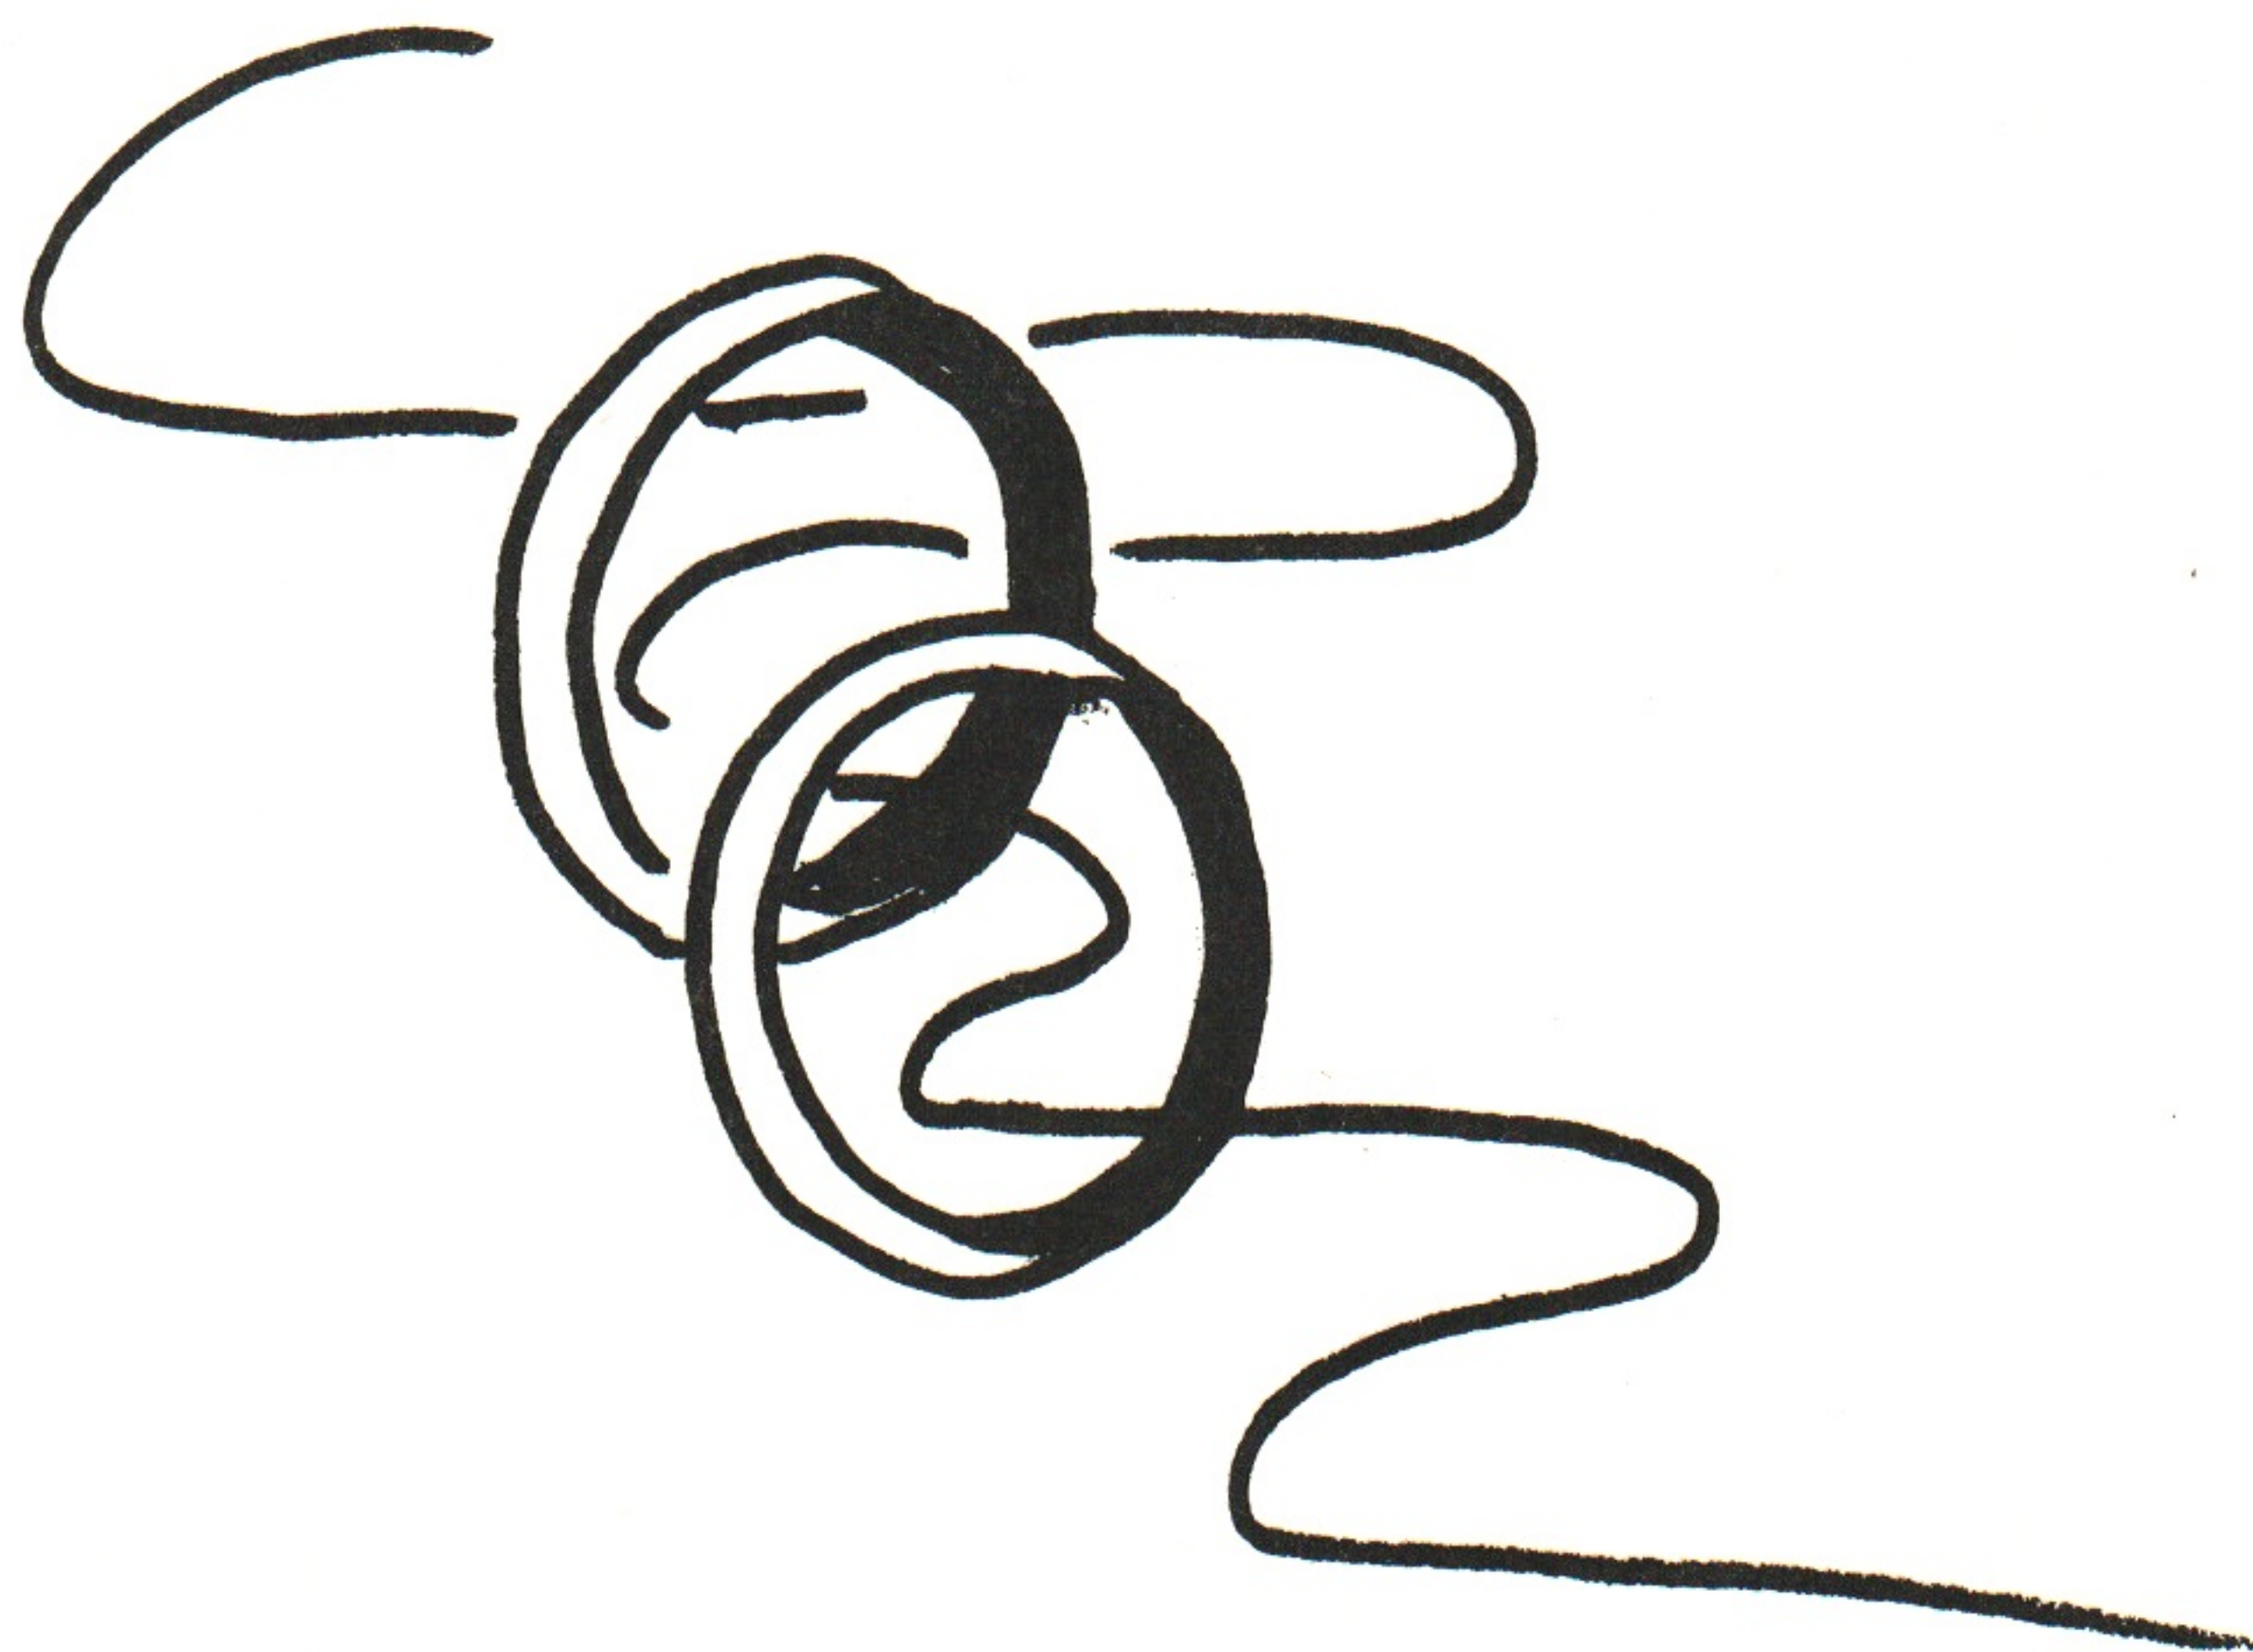

The following history of his company was taken from the publication, "History of Pennsylvania Volunteers, 1861-1865", Vol. III, page 32, which was prepared in compliance with acts of the Legislature by Samuel P. Bates who was a member of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania.

"On the 23rd of Sept., 1864, the original term of service having expired, the 87th Regiment, with the exception of veterans and recruits, was ordered to York, Pa. where on the 13th of Oct., 1864, it was mustered out of service. The veterans and recruits were consolidated into a battalion of five companies which was commanded by Edgar M. Ruhl, senior Captain. He led his battalion in the battle of Cedar Creek, Oct. 19th, 1864 where he was instantly killed by a rifle ball. In Mar., 1865, five new companies were assigned to the battalion bringing it up to the full strength of a regiment." (It was at this time that Charles Seeman was recruited and assigned to Company A.) "Captain James Tearney, subsequently commissioned Colonel, had assumed command on the previous December and retained it until the final muster out. On the second of April it participated in a charge upon the works before Petersburg, losing two officers and five men killed, and three officers and twenty-three men wounded. Lieutenants Samuel W. Keasey and Peter Nickle were among those killed. It was also engaged at Sailor's Creek on the 6th, with a loss of one wounded. It was finally mustered out at Alexandria on the 29th of June."

CHRISTIAN

CHRISTIAN and CATHERINE SCHNIRRING

CHRISTIAN

Christian Schnirring came to the United States when he was a young man of 17 years. He went directly to Springfield, Ill. where his brother George was living at the time. He was employed by Governor Bissell, thus living and working in the Governor's Mansion during his term of office and caring for him during his last days.

It was there, too, that he met his future wife. She was also employed in the Governor's household. Since the romance had its beginning in his home, Mr. Bissell proposed that the marriage be held in the Executive Mansion. On Nov. 17, 1859 the rites were solemnized there with Prof. Herman of Concordia College officiating.

Before their marriage, Christian was caring for his young niece, Catherine Hoffman, (see Section Three). She was permitted to stay with him at the mansion by Governor Bissell. After their marriage she became a member of their family and they raised her as their own. Their first child, a daughter, was born while they were still living with the Governor. She has the distinction of being the first baby born in the Executive Mansion.

Later Christian and his family lived at 401 Miller St., where they resided for many years and where they celebrated their 60th Wedding Anniversary. This couple holds the record in "The Book" of being privileged to spend that many years together.

Two girls and three boys were born to them. The greater number of their descendants have remained in the Springfield area. Catherine, the eldest daughter who was previously mentioned, married a farmer. They lived in the vicinity of Edinburg, Ill. It was in this farming community where their children were born and raised. Their other daughter, Anna, married a grocer in Springfield. To her belongs the honor of living the greatest number of years of any Schnirring descendant. She lacked about a month of being 99 years of age when she passed away at the home of her daughter in Rolla, Mo.

Their three sons continued to live in Springfield where they raised their families. William was a machinist. His wife, Katherine Jabusch Schnirring, was the last living member of any second generation family, she being 96 years of age when she died in 1965. Christian M. was in the grocery business. He and his wife, Rebecca Miller Schnirring, reached their 59th wedding anniversary running his parents a close second. Charles was employed by the Bunn Capital Co., a large wholesale grocery house, for many years. At this writing he is the only one of Christian's descendants who has great-great-grandchildren, the beginning of the sixth generation.

It is not known at this time if Christian and Catherine possessed a family Bilbe. If there is one in existence it has not been located at this time.

standing skill in maintaining torpedoes and torpedo tubes in a constant state of readiness. Velie rendered invaluable assistance to his commanding officer in launching a series of devastating attacks which contributed materially to the success of his submarine in sinking and damaging an important amount of Japanese shipping. His heroic conduct under the strain of prolonged war patrol was a major factor in the combat record achieved by the Bonefish and reflects the highest credit upon Velie and the U. S. Naval Service."

MATHIAS

Since this is the section concerning my grandfather, I can perhaps present a few more facts concerning him than I have for his brothers and sisters in the preceding chapters.

He emigrated from Germany with the advice and assistance of his oldest brother, George, when he was eighteen years of age. He was a brick maker by trade and worked at Springfield, Ill. until 1867 when he moved to Decatur, Ill. and remained there until his death in 1901. His wife Catherine, came to America when she was nine years of age with her parents.

Mathias was the only one of his family to leave the Springfield area. Perhaps he had a little wanderlust in his veins or was of an adventuresome nature to separate himself from his brothers and sisters - even if it was only forty miles, quite some distance in those days. Be that as it may, he obtained approximately 100 A. of land on the banks of the Sangamon River near the southwest edge of Decatur, Ill. In the past few years this property has been absorbed by the city of Decatur for residential and commercial use.

My grandparents had eight children, three girls and five boys. Two of the girls died in infancy. The surviving daughter married and for many years lived south of Decatur in the Boody vicinity. All of her children, except the youngest, were born in this locality. For a couple of years they lived near us in Iowa but returned again to their native Illinois, settling in McHenry County. There they farmed for several years specializing in the dairy business. Her descendants still live in that area.

All of the sons were primarily farmers. Four of them came to Iowa and settled on farms near Sac City, Iowa. They were ambitious, thrifty and diligent workers. The appearance, improvement and production of their farms were the direct results of such endeavors. My father, Edward, was the first to establish himself in Iowa. He had previously homesteaded a claim in Colorado but returned from there in the belief that there must be a method of farming more to his liking elsewhere. After his marriage they lived for six years in Macon County near Maroa, Ill. In 1896 they came by emigrant train with their meager belongings and several other pioneering families to Sac County, Iowa where he settled on a farm east of Sac City, Iowa. Due to his influence and enthusiasm concerning the future and possibilities of the Iowa farm three of his brothers also decided to make their homes in Sac County.

In 1897 the oldest son, George, moved to Iowa on a small tract of land southwest of Sac City which his father was in the process of purchasing. He later bought the farm from the heirs after his father's death. The family lived there for approximately fifteen years, then moved to Sac City, Iowa because of the mother's health. There he was employed by the Larson Bros. and worked for them a few years as a carpenter. Since his wife's health continued to grow worse, he was compelled to discontinue this occupation to care for her. A granddaughter and her family now own and live in the same house which was their home.

Another son, Albert, went to northeastern Ark. after his marriage in 1893. After being there a short time he contracted malaria fever and was ill practically all the three years they lived there. After staying in Ill. for a short time they came to Iowa in 1900, settling on a farm located in the same section as that of his oldest brother, George. He lived there approximately fifteen years. After the death of his first wife he remarried, sold the farm and moved to Minn. near Austin. In the late 1930's they returned to live in Sac City, Iowa. The youngest daughter eventually purchased the original home farm in Wall Lake Twp., and still lives there.

The youngest son, Walter, also came to Iowa in 1900 and, being single, lived with his brother Edward. They farmed in partnership for a few years. After he married he purchased a farm adjoining that of his brother. Even though they operated separate farming units, they continued to work together and assist each other in their farming operations. Perhaps one reason for this continued unity was the fact that their wives were sisters. A few years after his death the youngest son purchased the farm from the remaining heirs and farms it commendably.

One other son, Fred, stayed in Ill., purchased the home farm after his father's death, and continued to live there until he sold it in 1927. To me, his life was rather tragic. His wife died in the second year of their marriage. After that he withdrew from the outside world and lived in a cabin on the banks of the Sangamon, almost as a recluse. After selling the farm, he left the Decatur vicinity and started to roam. We have in our possession two letters written by him since that time. One was sent from Clinton, Iowa in 1930 and another from Superior, Wisc. in 1931. Since that time there has been no word from him. Searching for him has been in vain. He now would be almost 90 years of age and is probably not living but I still have hopes that some day we will learn something more about him.

At this time the Family Bible is in my possession. At some later date I wish to entrust its keeping to Ellen Marie Huster Jandebaur. When she decides to part with it she has promised to give it to one of the Mathias descendants who continues with the Schnirring name. So, if any of you younger "Schnirrings" are interested in this type of antiquity you should make your wishes known to Ellen so that it will become a part of your heritage.

The first entry was made one hundred and six years ago - At this writing - by our grandmother Schnirring all the events which occurred before her death in 1912 were written in German script by her. The first page of the following genealogy was copied from this Bible exactly as she had written it. However, some of the names have been Anglicized since then so this change is noted here. In the first place, grandfather was christened "Mathias". He signed his name "Mathaus" but at the time of his death he was known as "Mathew". Grandmother changed the spelling of her name from "Katharina" to "Catherine". Their oldest son was named "Johann George" and later used "George John" in all his dealings. My father also transposed his names and changed the spelling from "Mathias Edward" to "Edward Mathew". The daughter, "Emilie Katharina", spelled her second name "Katherine". These latter names are the ones used in the following pages.

After grandmothers death, my mother continued to keep the records in German script. Since her passing I have made the last two entries to complete that family history. If anyone is interested in seeing it they may do so at any time. It would be good if all the succeeding generations would keep such accurate records in their own homes today.

This Section concludes the history of this particular Schnirring family as we know it today. However, we are inclined to believe that there could have been other children in this family than the five included in this book. There is a period of years between the birth dates of George (1822) and Christian (1835) during which time other brothers or sisters could have been born. We are very sure there was at least one other sister because a Barbara Loux is listed as one of the survivors in the obituary of George. (See page 86). At the time of his death in 1891 she was residing in Germany. If it is possible, at a later date, to obtain information concerning other members of this family it will be prepared for and included in this genealogy.

M-3-10 ALBERT H. SCHNIRRING (1887-1918)

SAC CITY MAN DIES IN OVERSEAS SERVICE

ALBERT H. SCHNIRRING, MOTORCYCLE DISPATCH RIDER, IS SLAIN BY PNEUMONIA

A Sac City Business Man, Called in First Draft, Was Doing Valiant Service When Stricken With Fatal Disease.

Albert H. Schnirring died of disease in France, October 15. This sorrowful news was conveyed to the Geo. J. Schnirring family in a message from Washington received yesterday evening, as follows:

"We deeply regret to inform you Private Albert H. Schnirring died of acute lobar pneumonia October 15."

Albert H. Schnirring was called from a prosperous business on September 22, 1917 to enter upon military service at Camp Dodge, going with the first selective contingent from Sac County as leader of the party. On Thanksgiving Day he left Camp Dodge for Camp Pike, Ark. On June 20, 1918 he left Camp Pike for Camp Dix. He sailed overseas August 20, arriving in France about the first of September. There he was serving as a motorcycle dispatch rider and undoubtedly was near the front line frequently. He wrote home frequently. In his letter of October 2 he said he was not very well. Four days later he wrote, saying he was better. They had moved camp and he was very tired. That is the last direct word from him.

Albert Henry Schnirring was born March 13, 1887 in Macon County, Ill., the eldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Schnirring. In 1897 he came with his parents to Sac County and resided in Wall Lake Township. Three years ago last spring the family moved to Sac City. In association with his brother Oscar T., he took up the painter's trade about ten years ago and they had a large patronage in the vicinity of Sac City. About two and one-half years ago the brothers opened a tire repair shop in the city, in which the senior member of the firm retained his interest upon entering the army. Albert was a regular attendant of the Christian church and, though not formally a member, participated in the activities of the young people's society and the Sunday School. He was a member of Sac Camp No. 3280, Modern Woodmen of America.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his brothers Oscar T. and Homer L. (who lives with his brother-in-law at Solway, Minn.) and one sister, Julia, wife of Adolph Gustafsson of Solway, Minn.

Mr. Schnirring was one of Sac City's finest young men, substantial, industrious and thrifty, and had the confidence and respect of all who knew him. His life has been sacrificed to a great cause and he has not died in vain.

The funeral was held in the Methodist Episcopal Church at two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. The funeral discourse was delivered by the Rev. John R. Tumbleson. A male quartet comprising Ronald M. Wilson, Carl J. Hayes, F. R. Brownell and F. W. Stewart with Mrs. A. J. Irwin as accompanist, sang "Rock of Ages", "In the Sweet By and By" and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again". In the spring of 1896 they moved to Cedar Township, Sac County, Iowa and settled on a farm which they continued to occupy until July, 1920 when they became residents of Sac City, having built a beautiful and comfortable home at 502 South Tenth Street. The fine farm which Mr. and Mrs. Schnirring developed was turned over to the management of their son, Milton G. Schnirring.

Besides this son, Mr. and Mrs. Schnirring were parents of two other children. A son, Leo Henry, died at the age of five years. A daughter, Flora Catherine, graduated this spring at Iowa State Teachers' College, Cedar Falls.

M-4-57 LaVERNE KRENZIEN (1920-1944)

Memorial Service Held Monday for LaVerne Krenzien

Memorial services for Sergeant Laverne Krenzien, who passed away recently in Australia, as was reported in last week's issue of the Sac Sun, were held from the First Presbyterian Church Monday afternoon, with Dr. John H. Olson, pastor of the church in charge. Approximately 300 people attended. Farber & Otteman Funeral Home officiated.

B. G. Wallace, accompanied by Charles Lawrence furnished the music.

Attendants were Harold Klindt, Lewis Montgomery, Chester Walters, Lawrence Jensen, Donald Ellis and Varlo Gibson.

The following obituary was read at the service.

An noon Saturday, September 23, 1944 news came from the U. S. War Department of the unexpected death of Sergeant LaVerne Krenzien at Townsville, Queensland, Australia, on September 12. Such tidings were entirely unlooked for as he was not in the combat area and recent letters from him conveyed the information that, although he had been hospitalized for a short while, he was enjoying the best of health. The cause of his death at this date is not known.

He was born on May 8, 1920 near Ulmer, Iowa. He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Klaus Krenzien of Sac City. Since he was six years of age, he lived on a farm in the Sac City Community and attended the Wall Lake School No. 2. His chief interest was in his chosen occupation of farming, and he had hoped at the end of the war to make that his life's work.

As a child he was baptized at the Wheatland Presbyterian Church and for several years he was a beloved member of the First Presbyterian Church of Sac City.

On April 27, 1942, he was inducted into the armed forces and became a member of the Military Police Division. He was stationed for a while at Fort Omaha, and during this time he was an M.P. on the trains between Omaha and Chicago. He was sent later to Mobile, Alabama for a period of three months. He was then sent overseas in May, 1943, and had been in Australia for more than a year.

His untimely death brings keen disappointment and severe sorrow to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Klaus Krenzien, his sister, Maxine, of Washington, D. C., to his fiance, Miss Dorothy Jane Walrod, of Meadow Grove, Nebraska, and to his parental grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Krenzien, of Lake View, Iowa. Other close relatives and intimate friends will miss him more than words can tell.

LaVerne was a considerate and respectful son, and he always brought joy and cheer to his parents. He possessed a sunny disposition, and wherever he went he spread happiness. He showed unusual helpfulness to his neighbors in doing many things which lightened their burdens. Every memory of him is pleasant and inspirational. In his passing bright future plans have crumbled, and yet the blessing and usefulness of his life cannot be measured by the length of his days.

The high ideals of his life and his strength of character are reflected in the lives of the children who were nurtured under his parental care. He was trustworthy, his word being as good as his bond. He was tireless in whatever task he set his hands to do. The old adage, "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise" was personified in the life of Mr. Schnirring.

In the management of his own affairs he was never too busy to consult with and assist members of his family, his friends and neighbors who sought his counsel. Funeral Services On Wednesday For Harold Schnirring

Funeral services for Harold Wayne Schnirring were held from the Christian Church on Wednesday afternoon with Rev. O. M. McQuary in charge. Farber & Otteman officiated.

Music was furnished by Mrs. William Hole and Mrs. Velma McCallister with Mrs. L. E. Havens at the piano. Mrs. G. M. Greenlee, Mrs. James Leonard and Leonards had charge of the flowers. Attendants were Sam Sefren, Jack Stubbs, Paul Peyton, Lucian Russell, Floyd Larson and Dean Waller. The body was laid to rest in Cedar Cemetery.

The following obituary was read at the service.

Harold Wayne Schnirring, oldest son of Leonard and Ethel Schnirring, was born on a farm in Cedar Township, Sac City, Iowa, on May 6, 1925. He passed from this life very suddenly at his home in Sac City, on the morning of April 14, 1951, at the age of almost 26 years. His health has not been of the best since he was a lad, with a condition that made the years of his life very uncertain at best.

On April 17, 1938, he was baptized into the membership of the Sac City Christian Church.

After a year of employment at an aircraft factory in Des Moines, he returned to Sac where he has since been associated in business with his father in the Sac City Radio & Electric.

On June 24, 1946, he was married to Georgia Haning. They became the parents of one son, Kent, aged three years.

Besides his wife Georgia and son Kent, he leaves behind him his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schnirring, two brothers, Glen who is on the Korean front, and Richard at home, one sister, Viola, at home, and one grandparent, Mr. A. U. Cole. In addition to these, there are large circles of relatives on both sides of his family.

"WOLFLE"

This short history of the Wolfle family is included here for those of the Mathias Schnirring lineage who might be interested in knowing about our grandmother, Katharina Barbara Wolfle. If any one would ever be interested in doing research for her immediate family and their descendants the following known facts are given here.

Anyone searching for information about the family will be working under a handicap from the very beginning. The family name has many spellings. The correct one is Wolfle. In newspapers, on records and various other places it is found to be spelled Welfley, Woelfley, Woelfle or Wolfley.

The family, consisting of the father, Johann, the mother, Barbara C., two daughters, Katharina Barbara and Frederika, and perhaps a son, John, came to America from Germany in 1851. It is supposed that they came directly to Macon County, Ill. and settled on a farm near Decatur. This continued to be their home for the rest of their lives and it probably was the same farm where our grandparents, Mathias and Katherine Schnirring, lived.

Their occupation was farming and gardening. They raised fruit, vegetables and chickens for the most part, delivering the produce to regular customers in the city of Decatur. In fact, it was while my father was delivering orders for his grandparents that he met my mother. She was employed as maid and housekeeper for one of their customers. The Wolfle's enjoyed a quiet and simple country life.

The Decatur Republican, dated Tuesday Evening, July 27, 1880, gives this account of the death of Barbara Wolfle on page 3, col. 5.

"At the residence of her husband, John Welfley, 2-1/2 miles southwest of Decatur at 4 o'clock this morning, Barbara Welfley died after an illness of 5 years at the age of 65 years.

Most of our older settlers knew "Aunt Barbara", who, years ago, was a market gardener and whose industry and uprightness were known to all. Some five years ago she had a paralytic stroke and since then has not been able to come to town. The funeral will take place from the German Methodist Church in this city at 10 a.m. tomorrow and the remains will be interred at Greenwood Cemetery."

Johann survived his wife eight years. The death record at the Macon County Court House at Decatur, Ill. states:- "John Welfley, age 75 years, died Apr. 6, 1888 at 2 a.m.; of German descent; was widower; born Echterdingen, Germany; resident of state 27 years; died of pneumonia; ill two weeks; residence, two miles southwest of Decatur, Ill.; buried Greenwood Cemetery; information given by Mathias Schnirring". Also from the Decatur Daily Republican of Friday, April 6, 1888, on page 3, col. 6 this additional information is given. "The funeral will be next Sunday from the German Methodist Church, this city, Rev. Fred Nientker of Boody, officiating".

Upon visiting Greenwood Cemetery, Decatur, Ill. we find that the burial lots of Johann Wolfle and his daughter, Katharina, are next to each other in Block 9. The Wolfle gravestone is most unusual being a facsimile of a tree trunk with the information concerning them engraved on the side of the "tree".

Probably Johann and Barbara both had brothers and sisters but none have ever been located for Johann. In another lot in this same cemetery there is a "Stabler" lot which might be a brother of Barbara. The gravestones thereon show the names of Samuel Stabler, Oct. 13, 1819 - Dec. 1, 1893; his wife, Sarah Nov. 10, 1823 - July 26, 1916; and, supposedly, their children: Emilie, Aug. 19, 1864 - May 20, 1893; Celia Belle 1888-1894; and Iva M. 1891 - 1894.

The history of Katharina Barbara Wolfle can be found in Section Five - Mathias Schnirring.

The second daughter, Frederika, married Anton Beschle of Macon, Ill. The marriage record in the Macon County Court House reads, "Anton Beschle to Ricka Welfley, Oct. 19, 1868. They lived in Macon, Ill. where Anton was a business man. She was deceased at the age of 42 years. Anton remarried to Anna B. _____. Frederika, Anna and Anton are all buried in the Macon Cemetery, Macon, Ill. The following inscriptions appear on the gravestones: Frederika, wife of Anton Beschle, died June 19, 1892, aged 42 years, 1 mo., 5 days. 1850 - 1892. Anton Beschle died Oct. 1, 1927, aged 82 years, 9 mo. 1844-1927.

Anna B., wife of Anton Beschle, died Sept. 25, 1920, aged 63 years, 16 days. 1857 - 1920.

To Frederika and Anton were born two daughters, Lela and Flora. (It was this cousin of my father's for whom I was named).

At the present time nothing is known concerning Lela and her family except that a daughter of hers lived near Flora in Louisiana about thirty-five years ago. This daughter had a family of four - two girls and two boys. A letter was received from Flora Beschle Hopson in May, 1932 giving us some information about herself and her niece. Quoting from her letter she says: "It has been many years since I have heard anything of my cousins beyond the fact that my Aunt Kate's boys had moved to Iowa. She wrote to me from Iowa, I think.

We live on a rice farm nine miles from Crowley, a town of about 6,000, but our post office is Midland, a wide place in the road. We have no children but my sister's daughter and her family live on the farm joining ours and we enjoy them as our children. She has two little girls and two younger boys.

We raise rice as our main crop and the usual garden etc. that goes with farming and this is our busy time of the year. I think I am a little like your great-grandmother, Barbara Welfley. Besides the things she had to do toward a living on the farm she was fond of her flower garden - and her garden was my delight as a child, as my own small garden is my delight now". - Flora B. Hopson.

(Had I gone to visit her or continued to correspond with her I probably could have learned more about our grandparents. This is one more opportunity I failed to grasp when it presented itself.)

It is presumed that the son, John, was born in Germany but this is only a supposition. If he was born after they arrived in America the event probably occurred at the farm near Decatur, Ill. He was married to Rosalie Matzner but lived with her only a short time until he disappeared. Rose, as she was known, returned to her parental home with her son to live with them. About 1892 this family moved to Gresham, Nebr. where they lived on a farm. This land could have been located in either York or Seward County. Rose lived about four years after the move to Nebraska. Her son, John Albert, after his mother's death went to live with his mother's brother, Julius Matzner of Gresham, Nebr., making his home with them until he went to work for himself. He was killed while working with a construction company. When the father heard of the son's death he returned for a short visit with the Matzner's. After he left them, about 1918, he disappeared again and nothing more has ever been heard of him.

The following obituary gives us some information about the son's life.

"John Albert Wolfle, son of John L. and Rosa Woelfle was born June 16, 1881 near Decatur, Macon County, Illinois, and died Sept. 7, 1917 at the age of 36 years, 2 months and 21 days.

At the age of 11 years he moved with his mother and grandparents to Gresham, Nebr., where he resided most of his life.

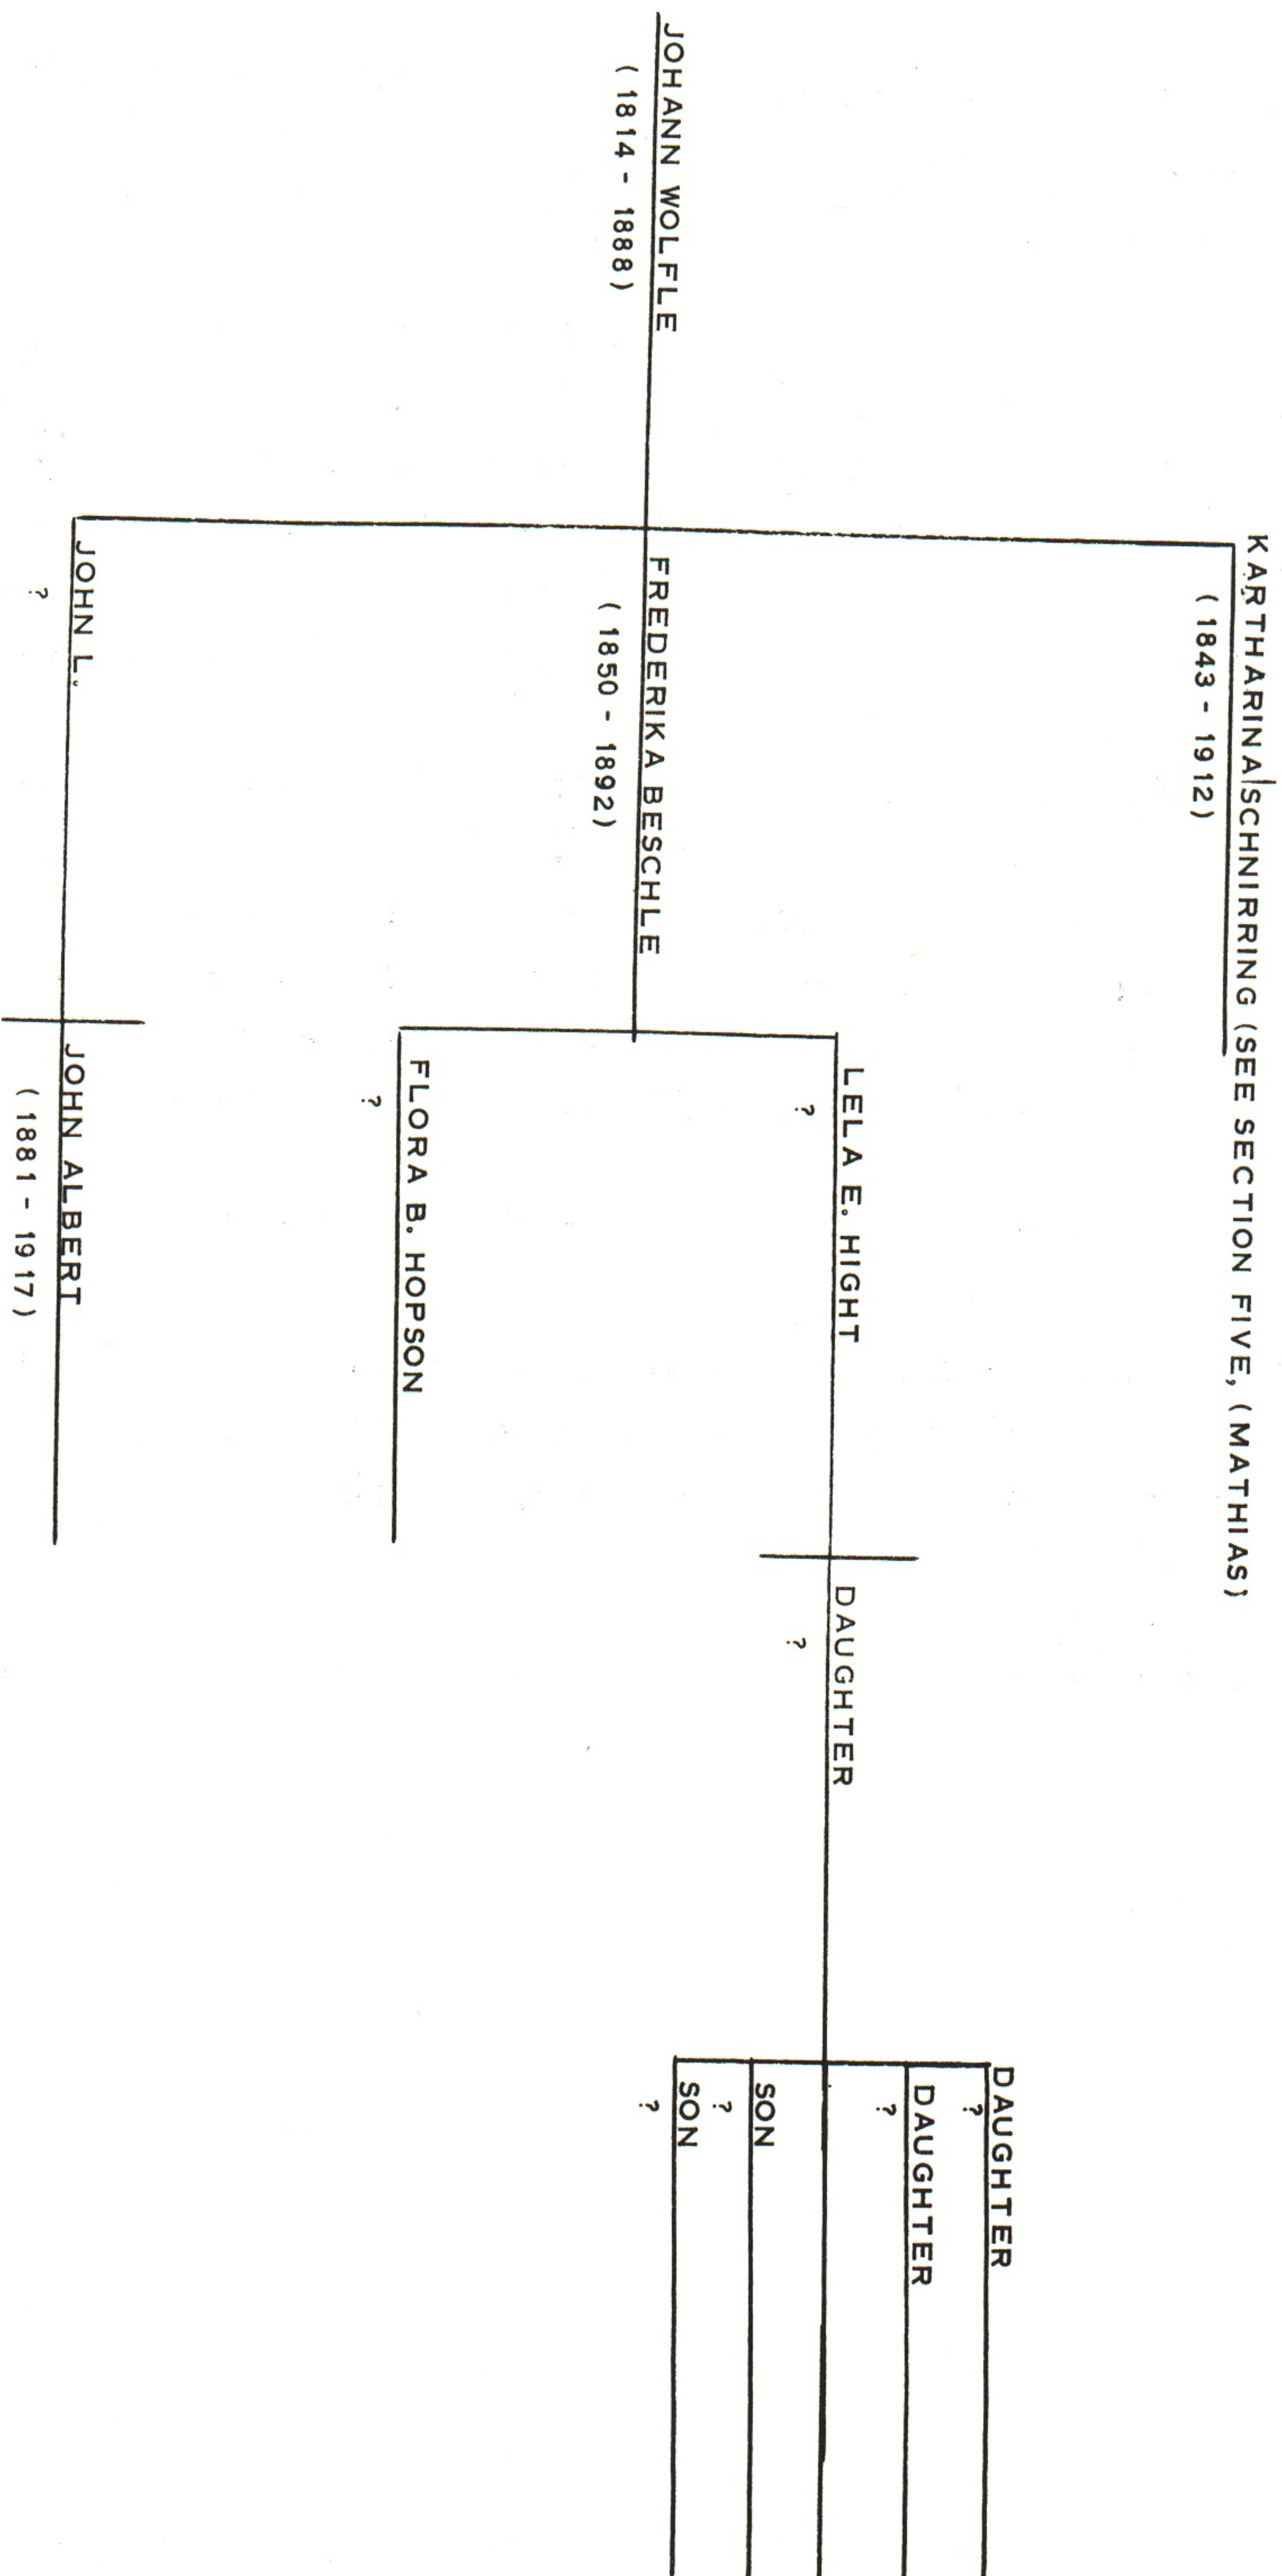

At the time of his death he was working for the Burrell Construction Co., at Dodge City, Kansas. He was helping to clear the site for a new elevator and was working at the side of a concrete wall that they were tearing down, when a portion of it fell on him, killing him instantly.

The body was brought to Gresham for burial and the funeral services were held at the Lutheran Church, of which he had been a member since childhood, conducted by Rev. Henriksen, assisted by Rev. Berg. The remains were laid to rest in the cemetery near the church. He leaves his father and numerous other relatives to mourn his sudden and unexpected departure."

SECTION SEVEN

VON BARGEN

HENRY VON BARGEN

VON BARGEN

It is hoped that the Schnirrings will pardon me for including this Von Bargaen section within the covers of this book. The reason I have included it is a very personal one. Because my father and his brother, Walter, married Von Bargaen sisters, two Schnirring families of the Mathias chapter have the same family histories. Since I have the information and since approximately fifty other Schnirring descendants can claim the same lineage, I would like to share it with them. Therefore, I have taken the liberty to present it here.

Our grandfather, Henry Von Bargaen, was an orphan lad who grew up with friends in the vicinity of Freiberg on the Elbe. The exact location is not known. He spent his boyhood as an apprentice in the carpenter trade. After spending the required number of years in this capacity he started his own business, specializing in cabinet making.

His married life was rather sad and short, but a courageous one. They were very poor. They lived on the fruits and vegetables they raised in the summer and canned for winter use. Their meat diet consisted, for the most part, of the fish taken from the waters of the Elbe river, supplemented with some wild game during the winter.

Eight children were born to them, four of them dying in infancy. Grandmother passed away a few days after the birth of the youngest daughter, thus leaving grandfather with the responsibility of the remaining children. With the help of friends they were kept together. He had always hoped and dreamed to make his home in America but grandmother would never give her consent to the journey. After her death, the way was opened up for him. He began making plans and arrangements for himself, his one son and three daughters to come to the United States. He made trunks and prepared boxes in which to pack their meager belongings. He worked long hours each day on any job he could find to earn extra money. By late winter of the year 1884 he decided he had accumulated enough to pay their fare plus a little extra for their expenses after arriving in New York City.

The five of them travelled in the steerage class of the boat, the lowest fares available. The voyage lasted fourteen days during which time the winds were high, the waves lashed over the decks and the food was limited for them. All the family became seasick except the oldest daughter, Anna, who was thirteen years old at the time. She cared for the others as best she could. During this time her brother became seriously ill with "membraneous croup". We would probably diagnose it as pneumonia today. His frail body could not withstand the disease so he died about midway in the trip. Near midnight on the day of his death the father and three sisters watched as the sailors fastened the lad's body to a board, weighted it and slid it off the deck to be buried at sea. He was six years old.

This death of his son was indeed a blow to my grandfather. The main reason for his leaving his native land was to give to his children more and better opportunities for their lives than he had ever had for himself. Especially for the son. Also all German youth were required to serve their king in the army when they reached manhood. He wanted his son to be free of that obligation.

Upon entering New York Harbor, they were placed in quarantine, as were all immigrants, for three days. Eager to be on their way, those days were long, tiresome hours of waiting. It was here they saw many things for the first time, however. One incident of buying bananas and tasting them for the first time was often told to me. From New York they went directly to Shumway, Ill. where some very dear friends, the Brummersted's and Engle's awaited them. They lived there in a small white frame house until 1902. It is said that the neighbor children were envious of the Von Bargaen girls because they had so many wooden shoes of various colors to wear. Their father had made them and apparently were their only luxury. He continued working at his trade in Shumway and the surrounding countryside and life began to prosper for him.

As soon as the two oldest girls, Anna and Margaretha, could find employment they were sent out to earn their own living. They were employed as maids or housekeepers in some of the wealthier homes in Decatur, Ill. The youngest daughter, Sophia, remained with her father in Shumway until she married and moved to Iowa in 1902. Grandfather came with her to make his home with them until his death in 1923. Anna and Sophia, having married the Schnirring brothers, Edward and Walter, lived on adjoining farms in Sac County, Iowa. Thus they lived only a short distance from each other for many years, raising their children together, assisting each other with their work and sharing the fortunes of their industrious husbands.

The other sister, Margaretha, met her husband in Milwaukee, Wisc. where they lived a short time. Later they moved to Waukesha, Wisc. where he was a cigar maker. Finally they moved to Athens, Wisc., a small town in the north central part of the state where they remained. While living there she was a dressmaker. He made cigars and also had a thriving business repairing shoes.

Grandfather never learned to speak English. He became a naturalized citizen on Oct. 31st, 1892, receiving his final certificate of naturalization from Judge Sylvester F. Gilmore, the presiding judge of the County Court of Effingham, Ill. It was issued to him using the German spelling of his name, Heinrich Von Bargaen. Later he used the English counterpart, Henry.

Mother has often told how persons, knowing they were very poor, offered to buy the "Von" part of the name. Often this "Von" was bestowed upon an individual as a reward for special services given or valorious deeds performed for the king. It had been given to Henry's father or grandfather. It seems that anyone having "Von" in their name could seek favor with the king - in this case the King of Prussia, if they so desired. But grandfather never took advantage of the privilege it held and always refused to sell. His reason for not selling was always the same - "they will take my children if they want them, they can take my money, but they can never buy my name".

Note: Since all the Von Bargaen children were born in Germany, their names were naturally pronounced and spelled as was customary to the German language. Three of the family who came to America made a change in their given names. The father anglicized Heinrich to Henry. Two of the girls transposed their names and also changed the spelling slightly. Cathrina Margarethe became Margaretha Catherina. Maria Sophie became Sophia Marie.

In the following pages the revised names are used throughout since those are the ones by which we, the descendants, have known them.

OBITUARIES

V-1-1 DEATH OF HENRY VON BERGEN

Occurs at W. H. Schnirring Home in Cedar Twp. -- Funeral Friday

Cedar Township, January 11 -- Henry von Bergen, residing with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schnirring, in Cedar township, suffered a paralytic stroke last Thursday evening and remained in a critical condition until he passed away on Wednesday morning, January 10 at nine o'clock. The funeral will be held Friday at two o'clock at the Cedar Methodist Episcopal church, the Rev. Richard Burrows delivering the funeral discourse.

Mr. von Bergen was born at Uderwalt, Germany on April 6, 1838 and grew to manhood there. In September, 1866 he was united in marriage to Miss Catherine Waller, who died on May 13, 1883 and was buried in Germany. To this union were born eight children, four dying in infancy. In 1884 Mr. von Bergen with his four children started for America but one child died on the way and was buried at sea. He and the three daughters arrived in America, settling at Shumway, Ill., where he lived until 1902, when he came to Cedar township. He has since made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Schnirring. The three remaining daughters are Mrs. E. M. Schnirring of Sac City, Mrs. W. H. Schnirring of Cedar Township, and Mrs. Marguerite Scheffler of Athens, Wisc. The two first named were with their father during his last sickness and at the time of his death and Mrs. Scheffler will come for the funeral.

Mr. von Bergen was a kind father and one who loved his home very much.

DEATH SUMMONS CHAS. M. SCHEFFLER

Charles M. Scheffler, 81, for the past 41 years a resident of Athens, passed away Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at a Wausau hospital after an extended illness. He had been taken to the hospital the previous Wednesday.

Funeral services were held at the Gilles Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, where Mr. Harry Treat, of the Abbotsford Masonic Lodge, of which Mr. Scheffler was a member, was in charge of the services and where Rev. Henry Heutzenroeder officiated. Pallbearers were brother Masons of the deceased -- F. H. Eisold, Dr. Lewis Frick, Dr. P. T. Habermann, George T. Fulmer, Earle D. Fulmer and John C. Nuernberg. The remains were taken to the Randel Funeral Home at Waukesha, where further funeral services were conducted by the Waukesha Odd Fellows lodge, of which the deceased was a charter member.

The deceased was born in Pomerania, Germany, Dec. 1, 1863. He came to this country when he was eleven years old, locating at Milwaukee. On July 31, 1894, at Decatur, Ill., he was married to Margaretha Von Bargaen, who passed away Sept. 15, 1930. She was buried at Waukesha.

Mr. and Mrs. Scheffler lived at Milwaukee for a few months, moving later to Waukesha, which was their home until 1904, when they came to Athens. Here, Mr. Scheffler, by trade a cigar maker, engaged in this business for a number of years. Later he followed the shoe repairing business for thirty years, retiring six years ago.

The Schefflers had six children, of whom three are living. They are Milton C. Scheffler, Sac City, Iowa, Mrs. Emil (Anna) Zerfowski, Decatur, Ill., and Miss Edna Scheffler, at home.

He leaves a sister, Mrs. Lena Engert, Milwaukee; 12 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.
